Retail Sales Over Nation Show Decided Increase

SURVEY SHOWS JUMP

Larger Cities Over Country Report Heavy Sales Since Christmas Season

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

NEW YORK, April 6.—(UP)—The American housewife, who spent sparingly during the depression, apparently is loosening her purse strings more now than at any time since the economic stress set in.

A United Press survey of the retail trade in a number of the nation's largest cities revealed not only a pronounced jump in sales in recent months but a spirit of optimism among business men generally.

The increase in retail sales, which began to be noticeable around the Christmas holidays, became even more marked coincident with the recent general increases in manufacturing payrolls and factory employment, as revealed by the department of commerce.

"The recent announcement of wage increases in the automobile, steel and other industries has made the average American workman more confident that things are improving and so his wife is not only spending more from his weekly earnings but is even dipping into the savings they had put aside to weather the depression," one department store executive told the United Press.

Offsetting slightly the rapid improvement in the mass buying power of labor is the downward trend in farm purchasing power as revealed in agriculture department statistics, which showed a decrease of one point to 75 in the index of farm prices for the week ended March 21. However, the statistics are not necessarily discouraging. Economic observers pointed out that farm prices invariably follow closely behind labor buying power up or down. That is, when labor has money, the farmer benefits.

Here are some of the responses to the United Press survey: The New York City department store business increased 25.44 per cent in March 1934 over the same month, 1933. Buying resistance greatly lessened. Gimbel's March business greatly improved over March of last year. Sales force increased more than 12 per

INSULT TO LEARN FATE ON SATURDAY

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 6.—(UP)—Judicial authorities were expected to give final decision tomorrow on the appeal of Samuel Insull, Chicago utilities magnate, against a government order for his surrender to the United States government.

Insull, held in the Istanbul detention house, depended on Turkish and British lawyers to free him on the plea that he was arrested illegally while seeking to pass through the Bosphorus from the Sea of Marmora to the Black Sea in search of refuge from American extradition charges.

The plea was made to the supreme appeal court at Eskicheir. Insull's lawyers attacked all grounds of his arrest and the order to extradite him.

NRA PLANS TO ENFORCE CODES IN NEW DRIVE

Minnesota Attorney Named Head of New Litigation Division Today

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—The recovery administration moved today to "crack down" on code enforcement by naming A. G. McKnight, Duluth, Minn., lawyer to head the new litigation division to prosecute a drive against code violation.

The division will function as a justice department branch in which NRA to handle compliance cases on which regional and national compliance boards and, in some cases, code authority machinery has failed.

Field compliance offices have about 10,000 complaints on hand, 5000 involving labor disputes, and 1000 charges of trade practice violation. These cases are being adjudicated at the rate of 500 per week. Many trade practice cases are settled by industrial committees.

A troublesome question involved in code compliance is the delay in distribution of the code eagle, successor to the blue eagle. It is the same blue eagle but has the name of the industry and the registered number of the member added. Although announced in January, the code eagle is not yet "hatched" and is the subject of controversy.

Distribution of the code eagle by the method employed last August to send out the blue eagle is favored by some NRA officials. The blue eagles were sent to postmasters and employers could secure them at the post office.

Others favor distributing the permanent insignia through code authorities and giving them only to firms which have paid assessments for code authority administration.

ALTOONA, Pa., April 6.—(UP)—Army officers from Langley Field, Va., were enroute here today for a formal inquiry into the death of Lt. John Leland McAllister, 26, killed on the second anniversary of his first solo flight when he attempted to "mail out" of his plane.

EDUCATION IS BEST WEAPON AGAINST CRIME

Sen. Copeland Advocates Adequate Pay for Teachers of Country

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—(UP)—Renovation of the American educational system as the strongest blow to organized crime and its growth was urged by Sen. Royal S. Copeland of New York today in an address before the citizens' conference on the crisis in education.

Charging juvenile delinquency with being "a million times more dangerous to our nation than the combined efforts of all roving criminals," he advocated adequate salaries for teachers, consideration of the "individual aptitudes" of pupils, and decried the tendency to exclude from classroom discussion subjects which run counter to current social practice.

"Any attempts to build up social codes among pupils that will function in active life, and that will enable them to meet their civic duties with intelligence . . . are doomed to attain meagre results so long as pupils are permitted to discuss those topics that make no vital difference to anybody," he said.

Careers of hardened criminals, Copeland added, may be traced back to the misdirection or non-direction of youth—failings which might have been corrected in the schools.

Cost of Crime

Copeland estimated the cost of crime conservatively at $13,000,000,000 a year. Graphically, he explained that the sum represented:

1. Twenty-five cents out of every dollar of national income—$400 a second.
2. The annual salary of the president for 17,000 years.
3. The total cost of national government and public education with enough left over to cover war debts owing to the United States.

Eight primary facts stand out in the picture of school distress drawn here at the citizens' national conference on the crisis in education. These facts follow, with answers and comments as given by speakers and commentators:

1. Twenty thousand rural schools are closing permanently.
2. President Roosevelt (by telegraph)—It is the responsibility of . . .

RELIEF PROGRAM OF STATE IS ATTACKED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 6.—(UP)—Growing discontent against the entire state relief administration program was evident here today as plans were completed for a meeting of supervisors of San Joaquin and Sacramento valley county supervisors.

In a hectic meeting here yesterday, Sacramento county emergency relief committee members termed the program a "financier's racket" and accused R. C. Branson, state administrator, with operating like a "Prussian bureaucrat."

Kissing Given Approval At Dentists Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(UP)—Kissing had the official approval today from the dean of dentists at the annual convention of the California State Dental association—speaking from a technical standpoint.

"There are germs in every mouth," Thomas B. Hartzell, chairman of the American Dental association's research committee and former president of the association.

"But," said Hartzell, "you'll find the same germs in all mouths—the girls' as well as the boys'."

"Most anybody would take a chance," he said.

DELAY ACTION ON STRINGENT UTILITY BILL

Sensational Discoveries Are Made by Federal Trade Commission

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—New and sensational discoveries by the federal trade commission probably will delay its recommendations for stringent utilities regulation until the next session of congress, the United Press learned today.

Survey of the commission's findings over a period of six years indicated that strict regulation will be proposed to curb abuses and practices revealed by commission investigators.

The federal power commission, which has been ordered to investigate electric rates of private and commercial concerns, will add its data to the trade commission's findings.

Most recent disclosures in the power "trust" situation were of correspondence purporting to show State Senator Warren T. Thayer, Chateaugay, N. Y., accepted "expense money" for political work from the Associated Gas & Electric Co., a New York legislature investigation has resulted.

New Revelations

Revelations of the inquiry thus far have been:

1. Discovery of about $1,250,000 in stock "write-ups" by utilities, most of which the public absorbed in security issues, now deflated.
2. Payment of large fees to lecturers, writers, newspapers and colleges for propaganda and publicity.
3. Utility opposition to municipal and public power ownership through propaganda, including attacks on the Tennessee Valley authority and Muscle Shoals federal projects.

COOKING CLASS COMES TO END; AWARD PRIZES

Register-Safeway School is Said to Be Most Successful Held Here

BY THE CHEF

THOUSANDS of women today united in declaring that the Register-Safeway Stores annual cooking school which ended today with the final session at the Fox West Coast theater, was the most educational and interesting culinary event they ever attended in Santa Ana.

Crowds constantly increased during the three-day school in "Kitchening," directed by Mrs. Edith Jeffers Freeman, with the result that today the doors had to be closed at 9:25 o'clock, 25 minutes after the doors opened.

After the doors opened, hundreds of women were turned away. Many stormed the doors and waited outside for the gifts to be given away.

Ioe Griffith, 829 North Bristol street, was made happy today by being fortunate enough to be given the new Fridgidaire, handled by Chandler's Furniture store. An Apex vacuum cleaner was given to Mrs. L. B. Bove, 314 West Walnut street, Gertrude Thee, 1216 French street, was given a Gaffers and Sailer gas range yesterday, handled locally by the J. C. Horton Furniture company.

Twelve more baskets of groceries were given away today by the Safeway stores, making a total of 36 given away during the school. The J. C. Penney store gave away three house frocks, while Wise's man's gave away a bridge lamp, a set of dishes and a bridge lamp.

Laud Mrs. Freeman

Great credit was extended to Mrs. Freeman who conducted "Kitchening" locally, and whose youthful enthusiasm, a was so tempered by experience, training and skill as to make her outstanding among cooking school instructors who have appeared here.

The last day's session was devoted principally to recipes, important to the complete meal, meat, poultry, fish, and vegetable courses being especially featured and inexpensive cuts of meat being given prominence.

As an example, a fruited pork roast, a deliciously made from a shoulder cut, was roasted in an open pan, a method long advocated by the Homemakers' Bureau to avoid the necessity of basting, except that in this instance basting was done with pineapple juice to add a tasty zest new to everyone.

Surface cookery of meats was capably demonstrated with a Porto Rican pot roast from an inexpensive cut of rump beef, with potato pancakes suggested, and demonstrated as a worthy companion for the breakfast dishes . . . eagerly welcomed by an audience familiar with the reputation so commonplace.

Slashes Her Wrists With Razor Blade

Suicide Attempt Made on Liner Roma; Under Medical Care in Genoa

GENOA, Italy, April 6.—(UP)—Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, victim of the famous Honolulu assault case of 1932, was under medical care here today after an attempt to commit suicide aboard the liner Roma in the Mediterranean.

Mrs. Massie, who was divorced in Reno, Nev., last month, was on a Mediterranean cruise. Officers of the ship reported she seemed in an extremely depressed state.

Alfredo Pellissiero, steward for Mrs. Massie's cabin, said that on the night of Easter Sunday, while the ship was bound for Taormina, Sicily, he heard groans from her room. He entered by force, he said, and found Mrs. Massie bleeding at both wrists. They had been slashed with a safety razor.

Mrs. Massie was removed to the ship's hospital, where she was kept until the liner docked yesterday. She was then removed to a hospital.

The wounds were healing, the hospital said, but her general nervous condition would require a month's treatment before she can leave.

WOMAN HANGS SELF IN SALINAS WOODS

SALINAS, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—An inquest was to be held today into the death of Mrs. Edith Crawford, 34, attractive Canadian whose body was found swinging from a buckeye tree in the deeply wooded section south of Palmar Hot Springs.

Airplanes and trained dogs participated in a 24-hour search for the woman after her disappearance from a health resort hotel.

Coroner J. A. Cornett was convinced that she committed suicide because of ill health. The rope around her neck was taken from a children's swing. In her pocketbook Cornett found another noose made from a corset string.

NEW CLUES ARE UNCOVERED IN MASS MURDERS

Undeveloped Film Directs Suspicion on Man Under Arrest in Idaho

SEATTLE, April 6.—(UP)—An undeveloped film in a camera owned by Eugene Chenevert, one of the six victims slain at Erland Point near Bremerton March 29, directed suspicion today more strongly toward Harry Kimble, held in jail at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, officers declared.

The film was developed by Luke S. May, Seattle criminologist, and identified by several persons as the man seen in Bremerton as late as last Saturday night.

The film showed a man, identified as Kimble, stripped to the waist, baring his huge chest and muscles. The film indicated he was dark complexioned and a man of great strength.

These facts coupled with the fact that officers were unable to trace his movements were considered sufficient evidence to warrant holding him further.

Friends of Frank Fleider in the Wigwag Tavern in Bremerton. This directly contradicted Kimble's story that he had never been in Bremerton.

Kimble was reported to have owned roadhouses in Everett, Leavenworth, Wash., and another near Seattle, at which Chenevert and his wife may have worked. They were professional entertainers and worked in such places.

Kimble was first arrested in Coeur d'Alene because of two black eyes, a broken nose and other evidences of a furious fight. He was released when he said he had had a fight in Spokane, but was re-arrested when officers found in his effects a letter from Everett, signed "Zell," which it was believed might have stood for "Martin Zeller," a name found on a piece of paper in the hatband of an extra hat found in the shambles of the Fleider home.

Meanwhile another man, badly battered, who was released recently from a hospital here was detained for further questioning. He was a seaman and said he suffered his bruises in a fight.

After a short delay both vessels proceeded to their destinations. Passengers reported both boats were blowing fog whistles at the time of the crash, but apparently the fog made the source of the sounds deceptive. The freight train barge was being pushed by a tug, which escaped injury.

FARMER THREATENED

Officers Shot After They Stop to Assist Gangsters Extricate Auto

MIAMI, Okla., April 6.—(UP)—Bandits believed to be Clyde (Schoolboy) Barrow, his associate Raymond Hamilton and their girl companion killed one Oklahoma officer and kidnaped another they had wounded near Commerce today.

The slain officer was Cal Campbell, 65, constable at Commerce, which is a few miles north of Miami. He was shot several times with a machine gun, the sheriff's office was informed.

The kidnaped officer was Percy Boyd, chief of police at Commerce. How serious he was wounded was not known.

The officers were shot when they stopped to aid three persons whose automobile was stuck in the mud on a highway a short distance from Commerce.

The bandits, two identified from descriptions as Barrow and his girl friend, "Suicide Sal" Parker, forced other persons in the section to push them out of the mud and then escaped with Boyd.

They were believed to have crossed into Kansas only a short distance north of Commerce. "Campbell is dead and Percy is gone and we don't know much about it," said Sheriff Doc Walters.

The automobile in which the bandits fled was a V-8 model Ford with yellow wheels. The license number was not obtained.

Barrow, notorious southwestern gunman, is understood to have relatives in the tri-state section near Joplin, Mo. He and his brother, the Parker girl and his brother's wife killed an officer in a gun battle in Joplin a year ago.

His fingerprints were found on a whiskey bottle at the spot where two Texas highway patrolmen were shot dead Sunday near Grapevine, Texas, when they stopped to investigate a parked car.

Officials feared that Boyd had been killed. A farmer who encountered the fugitives in the road eight miles west of Commerce was forced aside with the threat "We've killed two officers already and will kill you if you don't get out of the way."

FERRY BOATS MEET IN BAY COLLISION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(UP)—More than 1500 passengers aboard the Key route ferry Hayward, San Francisco bound from Alameda, were thrown into near panic today when a heavy Santa Fe train ferry loaded with freight cars crashed into the Hayward in mid-bay during a heavy fog.

Screams went up from passengers aboard the Hayward and commuters rushed to the front of the boat. No one was injured in the crash, and damage to the two craft was slight.

After a short delay both vessels proceeded to their destinations. Passengers reported both boats were blowing fog whistles at the time of the crash, but apparently the fog made the source of the sounds deceptive. The freight train barge was being pushed by a tug, which escaped injury.

GET ESCAPED JAIL TRUSTY IN ARIZONA

With the arrest of George M. Anderson, 27, in Mesa, Arizona, the third and last Orange county escaped prisoner case was cleared up and attempts were started to have Anderson returned here to face prosecution.

Sheriff's officers were notified yesterday that Anderson had been taken in custody in connection with the burglary of a service station in Mesa. When arrested, he had a .45 revolver and dynamite caps on his person and was later identified from a fingerprint circular sent out by Herman J. Zabel of the bureau of records here.

Anderson escaped from the Irvine park chain gang on August 12, 1932, after being sentenced on October 22, 1932, to serve 18 months in jail on three counts of violation of the California Vehicle act. He was a trusty on the chain gang at the time of the escape.

Sheriff Logan Jackson wired today for sheriff's officers at Phoenix to hold Anderson and said that extradition will be started if necessary. Definite word on what action Arizona authorities will take on the burglary charge is being awaited here.

The two other prisoners who escaped and were later recaptured were William Boyd, who dropped from a two-story window at the county hospital and Charles Brophy, who walked out of the laundry building at the county hospital.

Eight college women will compete for honors at the annual event, which is known as the Thalian contest, according to the announcement.

Shell Oil Workers Hold Conference

A meeting of department heads of the Shell Oil company was held Wednesday night in Station No. 161 at 1628 North Main street. J. H. Kellerman, local manager, H. L. Curry, supervisor, department heads and salesmen from Orange county, Norwalk and Whittier were present. At the close of the business meeting the group was served refreshments in the Corner House.

WILL ROGERS says:

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—(To the Editor of The Register.) Out to the studio here where we are working night and day on a picture came Dr. Professor Angel of Yale. I had always thought that a fellow from Santa Barbara named Harkness was the angel of Yale. This was an awful nice fellow, and a very pleasant, charming wife; he wanted me to help him on a couple of things. Wants to get Yale made a C. C. C. camp, and have education put on the basic industry list. He is looking for five men for the line and three backfield men. He is on his way to Honolulu, where he has heard of a quarterback. Yale is doing all she can to get back among the 400 of football teams. He is doing all he can to get Yale graduates to take up some other work than "brain trusting." He thinks it's a business that won't last.

AUXILIARY AND DRUM CORPS SPONSOR DANCE

Under the auspices of the Drum and Bugle corps and Auxiliary drill team of Santa Ana American Legion post No. 131, a public dance will be held tomorrow night in the new Veterans hall on Birch street, starting at 8 o'clock.

Music will be furnished by Musgrave's orchestra. It was learned from Dr. Fred K. Hilber, commander of the drum corps. The dance is taking the place of the regular American Legion dance for this week and the Legion series will be resumed next week. Halber pointed out that since the American Legion midweek races in the Municipal Bowl will be concluded early, it will be possible for many racing fans to come to the dance after the races and enjoy an evening of dancing.

Committees working on the benefit dance tomorrow are as follows: auxiliary, Mrs. Ruth Anderson, president; Mrs. Gladys Young, business manager and Mrs. Rose Ann Hardcastle, secretary. Drum corps, Dr. Fred Hilber, commander; Ernest Winbigler, business manager and George Canfield, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Dorothy Clark is pianist.

RETAIL SALES OVER COUNTRY SHOW INCREASE

cent. Stern Brothers increased sales force from 1,371 in January to 1,882 in March. Another large store, which asked that its name be withheld, claimed an increase of 126 per cent in sales over March, 1933.

8 Per Cent Increase

Chicago: H. W. Reiger, executive secretary for the State Street Council, speaking for the city's largest retail stores, said the approximately 8 per cent increase in Chicago's payrolls was reflected in a like increase in sales. A federal reserve report for this district a few weeks ago indicated sales had increased six or seven per cent over last year.

Detroit: Charles E. Boyd, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association here, said: "Conditions show a very definite increase and improvement to the point where we can find a comparison showing improvement over a two-year period for the first time." March 1934 sales, Boyd said, showed an 8 per cent increase over March 1932. The association has a membership of 450 stores.

Cleveland: There have been 5600 requests for new credit accounts the past month, highest in 36 years, according to Retail Merchants' Credit association. Retail sales during March were 40 per cent higher than March 1933. William H. Gray, of the Cleveland Retail Merchants bureau, said: "Easter buying was the best in four years. The best part is that buying has continued after Easter."

Pittsburgh: All local merchants optimistic and the major retail establishments in large and small cities of Pennsylvania generally reported greatly increased sales this year over any year since 1930.

Up 40 Per Cent

Los Angeles: According to statistics compiled by the research department of the Security First National bank, retail trade, in terms of value, was up an estimated 40 per cent for March, as compared with March of 1933. An estimated 25 per cent increase in prices contributed to the upturn, the statisticians pointed out. Easter trade was the best since Christmas, was in all lines better than for March of 1933, in most lines approximated that of March, 1932, and in some establishments was better than that of March, 1932. March trade in virtually all lines was better as to volume than for February, and appreciably above March, 1933.

San Francisco: March department store sales in California increased 35 per cent over March, 1933; sales for the first three months of the year were 25 per cent over the corresponding period of last year; credit was easier; rentals increased slightly; unemployment decreased with accelerated spring factory and farm operations; confidence most widespread since beginning of depression.

IT THERE A "RED MENACE"? TO BE UNCOVERED IF FOUND; WATCH FOR SPECIAL SERIES

tration to "Communist" on June 22, 1932. Perhaps he advocates violence and bloodshed, but I don't believe it. Anyway I shall interview him and find out.

318 Socialists

There are 318 Socialists registered to vote. They have advocated votes for women, the referendum, initiative, and recall, workmen's compensation, old-age pensions, etc., but I have observed them as desiring a greater measure of justice through legal means rather than as advocates of force.

Then there are 88 registered as Liberty party adherents who desire inflation and money reform; 450 prohibition party voters to whom abstention from liquor is of paramount importance; 79 miscellaneous; 1378 who declined to state their party affiliations, 19,562 Democrats, and 33,601 Republicans.

There is a total of 55,457 registered voters in Orange county and only one Communist in the bunch, and he can't be much of a "menace" to the peace and dignity of the county.

Even if the Socialists, Prohibitionists, Libertyites, miscellaneous, and "decline to state" were all classed as "dangerous reds," the total would still be less than 5 per cent of the total.

No "Red" Menace

All in all, I couldn't find any "red menace" around the county clerk's office, unless it's the good-looking red-headed stenographer.

So then I went to see Sheriff Logan Jackson, who business is to uphold the peace and dignity of the county, and who said he was under the impression that Communist organizers are at work in the county but didn't know who they were or where they are.

"The duties of the sheriff are clearly defined by law, and I intend to use every resource to prevent violence to person or damage to property," said Sheriff Jackson. "We intend to uphold the law, in a lawful manner, and protect the personal and property rights of everybody."

"While the sheriff's deputies all look businesslike and ready to cope with any emergency, I don't see a single solitary sorrel top who could be in any way called a 'red menace,' except to evil doers."

"What is a Red?" I asked District Attorney S. B. Kaufman. "A Red," said he, "is a person who advocates overthrow of the government by force or violence; who preaches riots, disturbances, and is not content with lawful, legal means."

"How many reds are there in Orange county?" I asked.

"Maybe a couple of dozen," he replied, "but I can't give you their names. They have regular meetings, but after a few meetings most of them get disgusted and quit."

None Arrested

None of them have been arrested, he explained, because they have violated no law, and are entitled to lawful assembly, freedom of speech, and all other rights accorded ordinary citizens.

The D. A. said, "but it is my duty to advise county peace officers what to do. I have instructed them not to interfere with any meetings or any speakers, unless the speakers openly incite violence or overthrow of the government. Workers have a right to strike, but no one—worker, employer, alien, or agitator—has a right to get up and incite his hearers to assault, property damage, or overthrow of the government, and if any should do that they will be arrested."

According to the D. A.'s figures, there "might" be a couple dozen dangerous reds in the county, but there are twice as many peace officers and even in a hand to hand fight, they wouldn't be much of a "menace" to the county.

Mr. Burke is so sure there are few "dangerous reds" in Orange county and therefore there is no need for national hysterics on the part of the so-called "capitulationists" who are trying to save their homes and groves from the tax collector and the mortgagee, that he offered me a reward of $2 a head for each one I could find.

He seems to think those who have been shouting "red menace" should either produce the Reds—at $2 apiece to me—or else shut up about an imaginary menace and not malign honest, industrious workers of Orange county by hinting that they are "reds," "pinks," Communists, or "radicals."

"So if you know of any 'reds,' please trot them out. I need the money, and Mr. Burke wants the truth about 'red' activities in Orange county."

4. Excessive "fees" to company officials.

5. Heavy stock market transactions to support securities artificially.

6. Payment of special management service fees.

7. Concentration of private utility control in the hands of a relatively few individuals tending toward violation of anti-trust laws.

Market Flooded

8. Pyramiding of holding companies and flooding of the market with new security issues.

The trade commission authority said "There is no doubt the utilities situation needs federal legislation. Disclosure of their methods in securities transactions was directly responsible for the 1933 securities' act."

He added that while many companies voluntarily discontinued using "special fee" system, others are still using it through special "expense" accounts, which are charged to holding companies.

The commission is speeding its inquiry, seven hearings being scheduled within the next two weeks. Two of them, it was said, are "especially" significant.

The saga of the trade commission's findings for the senate will be written into more than 50 volumes comprising 25,000 pages.

Since 1920, trade commission economists said, consumers power rates have been reduced approximately $118,000,000 through the inquiry. They said the figure would probably reach $1,000,000,000 by 1940.

In most instances, trade commission officials said, companies supplied investigators with data without difficulties. In a few cases, valuable documents and records were reported "missing" or "destroyed."

COUNTY BAR WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Annual election of officers for the Orange County Bar association is planned at its regular dinner meeting scheduled next Tuesday, April 10, at 6:30 p. m., in the Elks club, Anaheim.

Reuben G. Hunt, of Los Angeles, an authority on bankruptcy law, will be the speaker of the occasion, by arrangement of the program committee. He will discuss new legislation affecting bankruptcy proceedings.

LA HABRA AVOCADO THIEF CONVICTED

Dan Murphy, avocado theft suspect, who was shot by J. F. Bruderie, grove owner in the La Habra Heights area, several weeks ago, was found guilty in the Los Angeles county superior court Wednesday afternoon and is to be sentenced Monday.

The Bruderie grove had been entered on previous occasions and Murphy was surprised in his work of picking fruit when Bruderie fired upon him with a shot gun, according to reports. He escaped at the time, however, but was captured in Los Angeles later when he applied for medical treatment because of his wounds.

every American to see that the schools stride forward.

National Problem

2. Since the depression started, 8,500,000 school children have been deprived of educational opportunity.

Gov. George White of Ohio—This is a problem the nation must solve, and that means every man and woman in the nation, now, or face disaster.

3. America is spending a billion and a half annually to care for 800,000 criminals and only $200,000,000 more to educate 600,000 children.

U. S. Senator Royal S. Copeland, New York—We spend thousands to kill or capture a Dillinger, neglect a thousand criminals in the making.

4. High school enrollment has increased from 519,000 to 5,460,000 in 34 years; elementary enrollment from 15,000,000 to 21,000,000, but school funds have shrunk a half billion dollars since 1929.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, New York—Government can be no better than the schools. This conference is overdue.

5. Less than $28 annually is paid one-third of the teachers. Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana—Education's adequate support is a charge upon all the resources of the state, a responsibility upon all the people.

RECITAL-LECTURE TO BE HELD MONDAY

The subject for the second lecture will be "Music—Myth and Legend."

"If one is at all interested in music," said Mrs. Weston, "these lectures will be found valuable as well as very entertaining. Admission is free and all are invited."

Technical testimony by hair dressing experts and a special showing of motion pictures, seldom used in court trials, marked the continuation of the suit in justice court yesterday of Miss Evelyn Mustol against Mrs. Katherine Gillam, owner of the French Academy of Beauty, for $1000 damages for loss of hair from a permanent wave treatment.

The trial was adjourned at 5 p.
m. until next Wednesday, when it will be resumed.

The motion pictures were introduced by Carl Cowles, attorney for the plaintiff, and were shown to the jury, attorneys and other principals in the trial. They showed the condition of Miss Mustol's hair before she took the permanent wave treatment, and were contrasted by Cowles with other photographs taken of the girl after she had her hair clipped off.

The movies were taken and shown by Linden Aufdenkamp
while Photographer E. Coehms was put on the stand to show the studio pictures.

The first afternoon witness was
S. J. Mustol, father of the girl, who told of her embarrassment at school and condition of her hair.
George L. Richardson, cosmologist and code authority for the state of California, gave testimony on the giving of permanent waving, and said it was the general practice to make test curls in advance to tell the condition of the hair. He said that from samples of Miss Mustol's hair, he would deem that the hair had been oversteamed.

Mrs. Daisy Richards, cosmetologist, concurred with Richardson that the custom is to give test curls and that the hair was oversteamed.
Joe Steele, barber, who clipped Miss Mustol's hair the day after it was allegedly burned from the wave, said he saw no scars or blisters on the scalp as stated by Miss Mustol. Mrs. Eula Langenbeck, neighbor of the plaintiff, testified that she saw a scar the day after the treatment.

Mrs. Pearl Gillam, daughter-in-law of the defendant and an operator and teacher in the French Academy of Beauty, which is a school for beginning and advanced students, said the girl first said her hair had been sun bleached instead of bleached by peroxide.
For this reason, she said that no test curl was given.

Mrs. Mildred R. Masters of Long Beach, proprietor of 30 beauty shops in Southern California, was the last witness and gave technical testimony on permanent waving.

In the complaint, the Mustol girl alleges that her hair was burned, made it necessary for her to lose her hair and wear a wig, and suffer humiliation and shame at school. She said in court that she quit school to allow her hair to grow out. The alleged offense occurred on December 15. Mrs.
Gillam is represented by Attorney
A. W. Rutan.

R. D. FLAHERTY TO RETURN TO FARM BUREAU

R. D. Flaherty, secretary-manager of the Orange County Production Credit association, will resign his present position to again become executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

This announcement was made today by Felton B. Browning, president of the Farm Bureau, following a meeting of the board of directors at headquarters at 618½ North Main street yesterday when the matter came up for discussion.

Browning announced that Flaherty's leave of absence from his position as executive secretary of the Farm Bureau will expire during the middle of April, when he will resume his duties as secretary of the Farm Bureau.

At the same time, John W. Crill, president of the Production Credit association, announced that the board of directors of his organization will meet next Tuesday afternoon to decide who will be Flaherty's successor as permanent secretary of the Production Credit association.

Directors of the Farm Bureau, at the meeting yesterday, heard Holmes Bishop, who has been acting as temporary secretary of the Farm Bureau in Flaherty's absence, report progress on the compilation of a bulletin which will compare school costs of all schools in Orange county. The bulletin is expected to be released within a week.

No decision has been reached regarding whether or not E. J. Marks, who was employed as assistant secretary of the Farm Bureau during Flaherty's absence, will be retained.

The charge included failure to have a registration license, mirror, muffler, horn or adequate brakes on a truck.

FULLERTON BOY WINS SPEAKING CONTEST HERE

Willard Zinn, of Fullerton High school, and George Probst, of Woodrow Wilson High school, Long Beach, will represent this district in the annual public speaking contest sponsored by the Toastmasters club which will be held in Los Angeles on April 21. This decision resulted from the local contest held last night at a joint meeting at James' cafe, in which the Toastmasters clubs of Long Beach and Anaheim joined with the two Santa Ana clubs for the occasion.

Eight young people appeared on the program. They were: Lola Price, Santa Ana High school, who talked on "A Plan for Life;" Clair Barnett, Anaheim Union High school, "A Student Looks at Life;" Marian Crouch, Woodrow Wilson High school, Long Beach, "New Hope for the Slums;" Audrey Granas, Santa Ana High school, "World Peace;" Gordon Bishop, Orange Union High school, "Red Tape;" Willard Zinn, Fullerton High school, "What Fascism Would Do to America;" Margaret Todd, Orange Union High school, "The Golden Rule in Business;" and George Probst, Woodrow Wilson High school, Long Beach, "Employers and the Slave Complex."

The speeches were of remarkably high quality, according to those who heard them, and it was remarked by the judges following the announcement of the decision that it was one of the most difficult contests to judge by reason of the uniformly high standard of the entrants.

Willard Zinn was awarded first place, George Probst, second, and Lola Price third.

The meeting was conducted by H. Erwin Whipple, president of El Camino Toastmasters club of Santa Ana, who introduced the presidents of the other clubs, Kenneth Buckland, of the Long Beach Toastmasters club; Otto Idso, president of the Anaheim club, and Harold Fish, president of Smedley Chapter Number One, of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Lorena Goodwin sang several numbers, accompanied by Miss Leonora Tompkins. Fred McCandless, of Santa Ana, acted as toastmaster for the evening, and Paul Demare, of Anaheim, originator of the public speaking contest, gave the explanations of the plans and conditions under which it is held. Ralph Smedley, general secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M.

Take Court Files For Proceedings Against Attorney

Disbarment proceedings against Reeves Aymore, former Santa Ana attorney, who was removed as trustee of the Otto S. Lewis estate late in 1932 after a $16,000 shortage in estate funds was discovered, will be heard by the board of governors of the state bar association in San Francisco April 20 and 21, it was learned today.

Presiding Judge H. G. Ames, of superior court, has authorized removal of the local court files in connection with the Lewis estate probate proceedings, at the request of Attorney Stanley Reinhaus of Santa Ana, who is a member of the board of governors of the state bar. The files are wanted at the hearing in San Francisco.

Aymore, who had been trustee of the $125,000 estate since 1925, came under fire of the heirs in 1932, and was succeeded by E. T. McFadden, Santa Ana banker, who now is handling the estate, which consisted of a balance of $73,750 at the time of the trustee's last report, last October 13. Partial distribution and decreased appraisals accounted for the reduction, most of the Aymore shortage having been recovered, it was said.

Aymore left Orange county following his removal and was reported to have returned to his former home in Seattle.

SINCLAIR CLUB TO MEET HERE TONIGHT

The Upton Sinclair for Governor Democratic club meets tonight at Community House, 6th and French streets, according to an announcement from the club officers.

Short talks are scheduled by members and the "End Poverty in California" plan will be told.

A discussion of current events will be held and plans for extension of activities will be discussed. The public is cordially invited.

C. A. and founder of the Toastmasters clubs, spoke briefly on the purposes and growth of the organization.

Special interest locally attaches to the fact that the Toastmasters club originated in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. and that its growth to the present widespread organization dates from the success of the Number One Club started by R. C. Smedley in the local Y just 10 years ago.

CHURCH WOMEN ASK WOMAN ON POLICE FORCE

When women from 17 Santa Ana churches joined yesterday for the annual conference of the Santa Ana Federated Missionary society in the First Methodist church, one of the principal items of business was the passing of a resolution asking the city council to appoint policemen to assist in protecting and safeguarding the youth of the country.

The resolution stated that the group was interested in the advancement of moral and social welfare of the youth of the community and that the moral and social situation which confronts the city is increasing in seriousness since the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. It stated that definite action was needed to check the evils that have been brought about and that policemen should be appointed by the council.

The resolution, copies of which have been sent to the city council and press, was signed by Mrs. Earl Morris, Mrs. C. D. Hicks and Mrs. John Clarkson.

New officers chosen to serve for the coming year are as follows: Mrs. John Clarkson, First Methodist church, president; Mrs. Carey Haynes, first vice-president; Mrs. Albert Kelly, second vice-president; Mrs. A. F. Hill, secretary; Mrs. T. W. Ringland, treasurer; Mrs. R. I. Mathews, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, literature secretary.

The conference next year will be held at the First Presbyterian church.

Included in the highlights of the meetings yesterday were numbers by the Mother Singers; solos by Miss Helen Morgan; the play "Janie," given by a cast from the Emmanuel Baptist church of Long Beach.

Speakers include Mrs. C. C. Fuller, missionary from Africa; Dr. Maude Allen, Presbyterian medical missionary from India; and Dr. Vernon McCombs, superintendent of Latin American missions.

PREVIEW TONIGHT ON BROADWAY BILL

A special studio preview will be shown on the screen of the Broadway theater tonight. It was announced today by Manager Lester J. Fountain. The preview will be shown at 8:45 o'clock tonight.

Because of the showing of the studio preview, the second feature of the regular program tonight, "Ever Since Eve," starring George O'Brien, will be deleted from the bill tonight but will show with "Jimmy the Gent," featuring James Cagney and Bette Davis, tomorrow. "Jimmy the Gent" will show with the preview tonight, in addition to a program of selected shorts.

MONEY STOLEN AS PHONE CALL MADE

While she was talking over the telephone in her home, Mrs. Charles Riggs, 901 Spurgeon street, had nearly $30 stolen from her purse by a thief who entered through a side door, it was reported to police yesterday.

Mrs. Riggs said she did not hear the thief come in the house but remembered seeing a boy in the yard earlier in the day. The money was taken from a small coin purse inside a larger purse, Mrs. Riggs reported. The money was in small bills and currency and she was not exactly sure of the amount taken.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEET REVEALS PROGRESS MADE

The annual congregational dinner and business meeting of the United Presbyterian church, held last evening in the church dining room, resulted in re-election of Don Hilliard as congregational chairman.

Other officers chosen were: Mrs. Cora Torrens, congregational clerk; Benjamin Heemstra, treasurer; Mrs. W. J. Lindsey and Mrs.

Mildred Cooke Smith, trustees; O. S. Johnston, correspondent; J. Gray Johnston, head usher; Herbert Klotsley, assistant usher.

At a brief meeting of the church corporation, Ralph T. Raitt was elected as a director, to succeed E. T. McFadden, who is retiring from the board.

Don Hilliard presided over the annual meeting where reports from organizations and officials indicated that the past year has been one of the best in the history of the church.

The Rev. Albert E. Kelly, pastor, expressed his appreciation of the scores of those who have shared responsibility for the church's endeavor during the year.

A net gain in membership was shown, and the treasurer's report revealed a balance in the treasury with all accounts paid, including the congregation's pledge to denominational missions. Report of the every-member canvass committee showed that pledges to both local work and missions exceeded those of last year.

A large company was present in the dining room, where elders and their wives acted as hosts and hostesses at the tables. Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Elisele, Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Dennis, Mrs. D. P. McBurney, Dr. John McAulay, and Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Reenders, were on the dining room committee.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By J. GORDON ALLARD
Certified Culbertson Teacher

This is the first of a series of articles which will discuss Declarer's play of the cards. This week I will take up the play of the Declarer at a suit declaration.

The first actual operation in Declarer's play is a careful inventory of the combined assets of the partnership as revealed by Dummy's cards. Declarer should first:

1. Carefully count all of his winning and losing cards.
2. Fit Dummy's cards to his own hand.
3. Especially note missing high cards.
4. Mentally review the bidding to place the missing high cards as they location might be indicated by adverse bids, with a view to employing such inferences as finesses.
5. Especially note established and establishable suits.
6. Especially note entry cards and where entry cards must be created. Before playing a card, Declarer should size up the situation and determine his line of play.

The first obligation of Declarer is to his contract. Declarer should count the tricks showing in his own hand and in Dummy, and if the contract is in sight, he should not concern himself with the possibility of extra tricks until he has established the making of his contract with an absolute certainty.

Declarer's suit play is governed by the number of trumps and the distribution in his own hand and in Dummy. There are three types of trump hands:

1. There is the ample trump type, where both hands are liberally supplied with trumps and where trumps should be led immediately and continued until all adverse trumps are drawn.
2. There is the type where Dummy's trumps must be employed separately to ruff short suits in Dummy, or to be utilized for entry purposes. In such circumstances Declarer must postpone leading trumps, or certainly suspend the lead of trumps before Dummy is exhausted.
3. The third type of hand is the cross-ruff type, where Declarer ruffs alternately in his own hand and in Dummy. With such hands, the lead of trumps must be deferred, for Declarer must use each trump in each hand separately.

Consequently, Declarer must determine before he begins to play:

1. Whether to take out trumps and discard losers on established suits.
2. Whether to ruff losing cards before leading trumps.
3. Whether to try to establish a cross-ruff.
4. Whether to take a chance on his own plain high cards being ruffed.
5. And what finesses are necessary and carefully study the question of entries in both his own hand and in Dummy.

In 50 per cent of the Declarer's play at a suit declaration, he will find it advantageous to take out trumps immediately. In the other 50 per cent of the deals, he will find it equally advantageous either to postpone leading trumps or to suspend the leading of trumps.

$100,000 ASKED BY STATE IN BEACH OIL SUIT

Whipstock oil operators at Huntington Beach continued to be the target of state injunction proceedings today, an action being filed in superior court here against approximately 30 defendants, in a demand for the suspension of production from the O. R. Howard Company's "H. B. Well No. 1." The suit also demands an accounting of oil and gas produced, and asks $100,000 damages.

The O. R. Howard Company, landowners, including A. W. Hjorth, S. S. Wold, P. A. Kingsland, Sam Clapp, Paul F. Travis, David Burcham, and others, were among the defendants.

Deputy Attorney-General L. G. Campbell, who filed the action, stated that his colleague, Webb Shadle, attorney for the state division of lands, who has been associated with Campbell in prosecuting the oil injunction cases, was scheduled to undergo an operation for appendicitis in Los Angeles today.

DISABLED VETS HOLD DISTRICT PICNIC SUNDAY

District Commander Earl B. Hawks, of Santa Ana, today announced that the Disabled Veterans of the World War of the Fourth District, comprising the counties of Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside, Imperial Valley and San Diego, will hold a district picnic at the Anaheim city park next Sunday.

Jack Fisher Chapter, No. 23 will be host chapter, and Commander Harry S. Pickard has made arrangements for the chapter to furnish coffee, cream and sugar without charge at the noon hour. Veterans were asked to bring a basket lunch.

Past National Commander William Conley will give an address at 1 p. m. Guests of honor will include disabled veterans of the Third District, which includes Los Angeles and counties adjoining to the north and east.

Many prominent officials of both districts will be present, including State Commander John F. Burke, of Riverside, and Irene Pinney, state commander of the Auxiliary, as well as state adjutants and other officials of both the chapters and auxiliaries.

Special sports have been arranged for children. The Third District has challenged the Fourth District to a baseball game, which is expected to be of interest. Commander Pickard urged all

EXEMPT STATE ROYALTY OIL IN ASSESSMENTS

Oil produced by the so-called whipstock operators at Huntington Beach and turned over to the state as a one-sixth royalty on production from their wells, will not be assessed, it was announced today by County Assessor James Sleeper.

Sleeper stated that, with the approval of Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton, he had allowed a deduction of the royalty oil in the first tab return filed by a Huntington Beach oil company, the statement showing that the oil had been diverted to the state on the first Monday of March, the beginning of the assessment period.

Menton said that he would continue to oppose refunds of assessments upon such oil produced in previous years, as having been in possession of the operators at the time of assessment.

The first return covered two lots, each 25 by 125 feet, which are assessed at $91,350. Sleeper showed, even after deduction of royalty oil. The assessment covered 264,066 barrels of oil and $8,828.01, representing gasoline production.

INVESTIGATOR CHARGES RUSSIA WITH DECEIT

Charging that Soviet propaganda from Moscow is continuing in the United States despite recognition agreements, that large purchases of American cotton, tin, and other products bought on credit by the Soviets was diverted to pay old Soviet debts in Italy and South America, and that the Third International planned and carried out the Los Angeles milk strike, Imperial melon strike, Fresno grape strike and had scheduled a citrus strike for this district, Dr. Charles Hoffman, investigator of radical activities for the Los Angeles city attorney's office, addressed the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday noon at James cafe.

Detailed instances of deceit on the part of Soviet representatives was detailed and whole sale disregard of international agreements laid at the door of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics by the speaker, who is president of the Los Angeles Lions club, and came to Santa Ana under auspices of the Brea Lions club, which staged yesterday's program in return for a visitation by the Santa Ana club to Brea several weeks ago.

Designed to arouse fear of Moscow activities, the address was regarded as a typical anti-Red speech, which laid all California strikes the past year at the door of the Soviets, and urged support of peace officers in their campaigns against Communist activities.

Twenty-eight members, led by President Ralph Barnes, comprised the visiting Brea delegation of Lions, with Carl Harvey acting as program chairman for the day. Prior to the address, humorous committee reports were given by Mike Hogue, Howard Robinson, and Elmer Guy.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation to Lion W. K. Hillyard of a key by Past President Luther Mack of Los Angeles, on behalf of International, in recognition of his services securing new members for the club.

Next week's program will be in charge of Ralph Raitt, with Braven Dyer, Los Angeles sports writer, as the speaker.

SERIOUSNESS OF EARTHQUAKE IN INDIA TOLD

Graphic details of the devastation wreaked by the earthquake which struck North Bihar, India, in January, are contained in clippings from the Statesman Calcutta, of February 7, sent to Mrs. Clyde Ashen, 1502 French street, by her brother, B. J. Sullivan, bishop of Patna, India.

Bishop Sullivan has been in India for 19 years and visited in Santa Ana before going to India. He expects to return here in 1935 and visit with his sister and his mother, Mrs. M. Sullivan.

The Governor of Bihar is quoted in the paper that even after three weeks from the date of the disaster, the outside world had little conception of the wreckage and topography changes. It was said that one of the surprising features of the quake was not the wreckage of towns but the large-scale alterations to the whole structure of the countryside. The report said the topography was so changed that previous flood control work was rendered useless. Whereas the epicenters of the recent New Zealand and Japanese earthquakes were only 20 miles long, the Bihar epicenter measured 135 miles. The only earthquake which approached the intensity of this one was in California in 1906, it was said. The death toll had already reached 6000 at the time of the report and would have been considerably larger had not the quake occurred early in the afternoon, the report said.

Ten gallons of gasoline were stolen from the garage of J. G. Bailey, 209 North Flower street, he reported to police yesterday.

It has been reported to police that a bicycle owned by Hugh Gerard 2009 Victoria drive, was stolen Wednesday from the Santa Ana high school.

Charles O'Malley, 42, 614 East Fourth street, was booked at the county jail for intoxication at 10:30 o'clock last night by Deputy Sheriffs C. W. Riegler and L. H. Nicholson.

POPULAR LIGHT OPERA TO BE GIVEN BY J. C.

"Student Prince," a popular light opera, will be given by Santa Ana Junior college June 1 and 2 in Orange and Huntington beach high schools. It was learned today from Miss Myrtle Martin, laysee music head.

Leads will be announced next week by Miss Martin, and most of those appearing in leading parts will be from Huntington Beach. For that reason the opera is being played in that city June 2, and will run in Orange June 1 for both Santa Ana and Orange people.

"Student Prince" is one of the best operas ever to be chosen for production by the college, Miss Martin said, and until this year could not be secured for less than $1000 royalty for a two night run.

The executive board will handle the financial end of the production, it having handled the melodrama for the music department to clear more than $100 for the school.

Anniversary Of Famous Canadian Victory Recalled

Russell Munro of Santa Ana, commander of the Orange County post of the Canadian Legion, today called attention to the celebration of the 17th anniversary of the battle of Vimy Ridge, one of the greatest victories of the Canadians in the Great war, which will be celebrated at Griffith park, Los Angeles, Sunday.

All Canadian Legion posts in the Southland are expected to send delegates to the celebration, and arrangements for a delegation from here will be made at a meeting of the Orange County post of the Legion at 8 o'clock tonight at the American Legion hall in Orange, Munro said.

BUCK JONES COMES TO WALKER'S STATE

Buck Jones, the popular action star, with his famous horse, "Silver," came to the screen of Walker's State theater today for a two day run in "The Fighting Code."

The story reveals Buck's adventures in thwarting a gang of outlaws and clearing the name of the father of the girl he loves.

The program includes a Walt Disney Silly Symphony, "Bugs in Love" in color; a news reel; Masquers comedy, "Two Lips and Julips"; and chapter 12 of "Phantom of the Air."

The Mickey Mouse club will hold its regular meeting at Walker's State theater at 1 p. m. Saturday.

100 CONGRESSMEN TO GO ON JUNKET

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—The biggest congressional junket in years starts today and, for a change, the congressmen, instead of the government, will pay all the bills.

The cut rate excursion trip is designed to let the representatives see what New York, Ellis Island and West Point are like for the sum of about $20 a piece.

More than 100 house members plan to go, many bringing their wives and children (if over 16) along. The party was expected to be bigger and better due to the fact the house recently voted to increase members' salaries by $1,000.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

ART The outstanding political dance team of the spring season is that of Messrs. Hull, Dickinson Wallace and Sayre.

Their soft-shoe work on the tariff bill is nothing short of colossal. They have been tiptoeing around the congressional stage for weeks, afraid their shoes will squeak. They have been so gracefully deceptive that they have become known to their intimates as "the perfect tariff ballet."

What makes their feat more difficult is the fact that they are being pursued by a crowd of inartistic Republicans. These Republicans keep demanding to know what this is all about, what tariffs are going to be bargained away, what industries and farmers here are going to be affected.

TECHNIQUE

The only slip so far was made by Agriculture Secretary Wallace. He admitted once that perhaps sugar was one thing the tariff bargainers might consider. The Republicans leaped all over him and nearly ruined the act.

State Secretary Hull and his assistant, Sayre, have pleaded confidential immunity for diplomatic business. Assistant Commerce Secretary Dickinson is being artfully evasive.

Democratic senators and representatives are keeping in step with the ballet leaders and are not letting the Republicans know what is in their minds.

This footwork is, of course all political by-play. The truth could be told. But it is such a little truth no one wants to let it out until the tariff bill is safely passed.

FACTS

No one should tell the Republicans, but up to date the administration has received only three tariff bargaining offers from abroad. Two of these came from Latin American countries, one from Europe.

Others are expected when the tariff bill passes. In fact, the real inside reason why Germany offered that token payment on her debt is that even she expects to get some of that RFC money to finance some buying here. She will be disappointed.

What the tariff bargainers intend to specialize on is the importation of products which do not compete directly with American industrial or agricultural products. This narrows their field down to such things as fine laces, highest grade woollens, special liquors and wines, coffee, etc. They plan more bargaining with Latin American countries than with any one else.

They have no wholesale bargaining arrangement in mind and cannot get any until world conditions improve considerably.

THE BANKS

A peek inside the Peek Export Corporation will give you a slant on the vastness of operations so far.

Mr. Peek's corporation is a few rooms and desks. They are thronged with people daily, but not exporters and importers. The visitors are nearly all looking for jobs.

His three banks are three letter files, one for Cuba, one for Russia and one for the rest of the world.

PEEK

Only the insiders apparently realize yet that Peek is virtually a man without a job.

His intimates suspect that only an extraordinary enthusiasm for his task keeps him at it. He seems to hope that some day it will work out all right.

So far, the other government departments have been co-operating by secretly throwing lassos over his neck. Any trade agreement he makes must be a treaty, yet he has no power to make treaties. The state department must do that. Also, he must get his money from the RFC.

LICENSING

Extension of the licensing power of the NRA is expected to be slipped into a general bill in the closing moments of congress.

Certain authorities in the administration (not including General Johnson) are making arrangements for that. Johnson is not opposed to it. All he has said is that he will not recommend such a course because he is afraid of opening the subject to congressional debate. That would be a direct retreat.

Everyone is willing that Johnson's statement stand undisputed until the current agitation against the brain trusters dies down.

NOTES

The Senator Wagner-General Johnson rift exists and may become important later. It came about largely because Johnson first asked to appear for the Wagner labor board bill and then did not show up. Later, Wagner invited Johnson, and still he did not show up. Wagner's friends have suspected the reason is that Johnson has been talking about organizing separate boards of labor mediation for each industry under the code. That program might supersede the Wagner bill.

One committeeman for the nation is a national dairy man who has been fighting Wallace, Tugwell and Frank on the milk policy.

Despite announcements to the contrary, not a thing has been done about Russian trade because the Johnson bill (restricting negotiations with debtors) has held things up.

The neatest silver plot of all was the sending of the Dies silver bill to the senate agriculture committee. It should have gone to the finance or banking committees, but they are strongly anti-silver. The silver boys sidetracked it so that Senator Wheeler could get his clutches on it. Wheeler is on agriculture, but not on banking or finance.

PRINCE SIGVARD IS FORGIVEN BY KING

CANNES, France, Apr. 6.—(UP)—King Gustav of Sweden has forgiven his grandson Prince Sigvard for marrying the German motion picture actress Erika Patzek and he has even kissed the bride, it was revealed today.

King Gustav and Sigvard's sister Princess Ingrid, came here and had a three-hour luncheon with the bride and groom.

"He kissed the bride, shook hands with the groom, and decided to let bygones be bygones," a court attache said.

HOME DECORATION TOPIC FOR CLASS

America's heritage of styles, the design element in house furnishing, design element in house furnishing, will be discussed by Miss Edith Hynes of Los Angeles in the fourth lecture of her series upon interior decorating, at the Frances Willard school library, at 7 o'clock this evening.

The lecture is a part of the evening high school program, and all who are interested are privileged to attend, according to Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the adult education department.

Court Notes

Virgil E. Knox charged cruelty in a suit for divorce on file today in superior court against Olan P. Knox. They were married in Los Angeles November 4, 1932, and separated March 31, 1932. Knox charges that his wife was cold and intolerant; that she found fault with him and struck him.

Two actions have been brought in superior court on behalf of the Western Loan and Building company, Utah concern now in the process of liquidation, to foreclose mortgages against Orange county property. Friend W. Richardson, California building and loan commissioner, and John A. Malla, bank commissioner of Utah who is in charge of the loan company, are joined as plaintiffs. One action, filed against Lawrence L. Mennes and others at Fullerton, seeks to foreclose a $969.02 mortgage there. The other, naming Leonard Williams and other defendants, would foreclose a mortgage of $2106.29 against property at Huntington Beach.

A petition to terminate the joint tenancy interest of the late R. H. Jackson in property at Huntington Beach, together with a petition to probate his will, was filed in superior court late yesterday by the widow, Maude M. Jackson. The estate, valued at $2500, was left to the widow.

(Actions with debtors) has held things up.

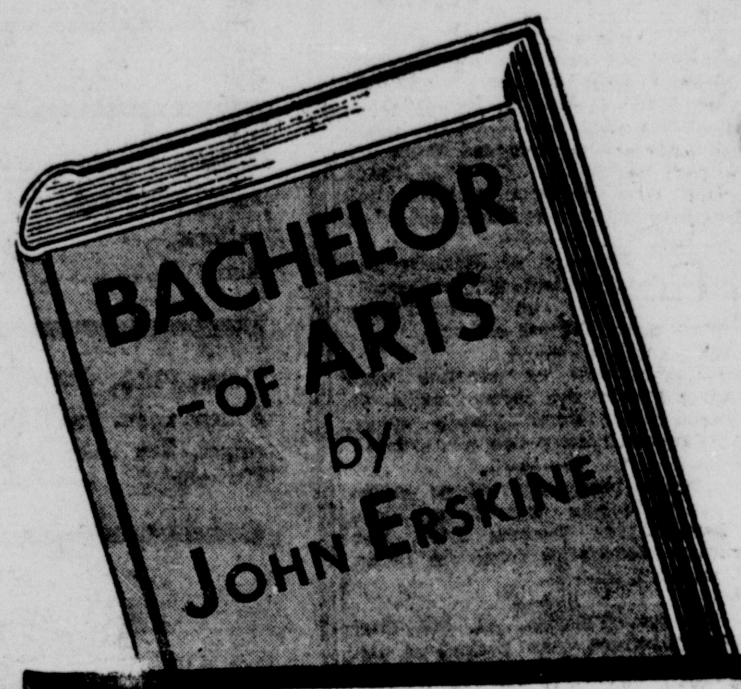

The neatest silver plot of all was the sending of the Dies silver bill to the senate agriculture committee. It should have gone to the finance or banking committees, but they are strongly anti-silver. The silver boys sidetracked it so that Senator Wheeler could get his clutches on it. Wheeler is on agriculture, but not on banking or finance.

Plan Tree Planting Program In Harbor District

CHAMBER WILL MAKE REGATTA ANNUAL EVENT

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—A tree planting program is to be urged on owners of property in the Newport harbor district, sponsored by the parks and beautification committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, headed by J. E. Lennan, of Lido Isle.

Lennan stated at a chamber meeting last night that experts on trees who know what varieties to do well on the coast are to co-operate with the committee during the next few weeks. Lennan will endeavor to secure the cooperation of women's and other organizations and get the entire community interested.

President A. B. Rousseille of the chamber said that the planting of trees in this city would greatly enhance the beauty and the value of property and commended the committee on its activities.

A successful was the starboard sailing regatta staged here during the Easter college vacation that it will be an annual affair, directors decided.

The chamber will co-operate with local yacht clubs and others interested in boating and will act as co-sponsors, it was decided. Commodore J. A. Beck, chairman of the chamber's harbor committee, and W. S. Smith Jr., two of the chamber directors active in putting over this year's regatta, are in favor of adding other racing classes to the starboards which competed this year.

No serious damage is being done to the fishing resources of the coast by the harvesting of kelp, according to a letter to the local chamber from the state fish and game division which has power to control the kelp cutting and is regulating it in the interests of marine life.

George P. Wilson, chairman of the chamber's transportation committee, recommended that some action be taken to open Bay avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets. It is now open both east of Ninth and west of Tenth. The committee was authorized to proceed in any way possible to get the thoroughfare opened.

The value of schools to a community from a commercial standpoint was given to the directors by C. A. Pullen, chairman of the education committee, who gave figures of attendance at the Santa Ana Junior college, many of the students coming from outside the county and nearly half from outside the district.

P. O. Receipts In La Habra Show Increase

LA HABRA, April 6.—Postmaster Bert Hilbert reported today that receipts in the post office for the quarter ending March 31, increased over the same period last year by $993.94, or approximately 60 per cent. This increase he believes is due partially to improved business conditions and partly to the fact that large corporations operating here are doing more business through the local office.

The residence district of La Habra is now without the afternoon delivery of mail, in accordance with an order from the post office department. This condition will prevail until July 1 and was made necessary to keep the post offices in the country within their budgets, Mrs. Hilbert stated.

he said abruptly, "You can remember that—not I, suppose, that it will mean much. But I would do either."

He still cared, she realized, her heart quickening.

"If I could only see you once in a while," he said next, "it would mean everything to me!"

"I don't see why not!" she faltered, again looking up at him.

"I'm lonely," she added, "for the sort of people I can't seem to find."

My mother is gone now," he murmured. She made no answer, but quickly went on, "That night of the party I did enjoy talking to you. I thought we had a great deal in common."

"I'll never forget that night."

Estelle went on, "I used to watch you running the boat and wish I could know you better. I was so we could be friends."

He wanted to drop to his knees before her. He said, with an eagerness that made the words come fast, and left him breathless, "When can I see you again? Where?"

A few drops of rain had fallen and she arose, drawing her wrap around her.

"You haven't taken cold?" Pablo asked anxiously.

"Oh, no!" She shivered at the thought. Then she held out one hand and he took it. "Shall we meet here Thursday—at two?" she questioned.

"If you will!"

"You mustn't go to the car with me," she warned. "It wouldn't be safe. Goodbye, Pablo, Thursday at two!"

He watched her disappear, then sat down on the bench. He saw that she had dropped her handkerchief and picked it up reverently. With the utmost tenderness he held it between his palms, then, as if he were presenting it to a saint, he said, "What can come of this except more misery?"

Nevertheless seeing her was heaven and—two days ahead—he was to see her again.

Marica Tremay found Estelle to be "an odd little piece" with an occasional flash of sadness in her eyes that contrasted unpleasantly with her obvious youth.

"Still not?" Marica thought and added energetically, "Well, she'll laughed. "Sometimes it's a horrid

Rowboat And Kayak Race Held Sunday

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—Whether a kayak is faster than a rowboat style rowboat is scheduled to be decided here Sunday, when Charley Plummer, well known diver and kayak builder, will paddle a kayak against a rowboat. The rowboat will be rowed by Bob Zumfelde, builder of rowboats and other small craft.

The two men announced today that they will start their race at 11 a. m. Sunday, in front of the Balboa Pavilion. The course will be through the harbor entrance to the ocean, thence to Newport Beach ocean pier and back to the starting point.

This will be the first race ever staged between two such craft, boat men here say. Plummer's kayak is 17 feet in length and is similar to one he used in the Tournament of Lights parade here last summer. Zumfelde's rowboat is 13 1-2 feet long and has a sliding seat. He uses nine-foot oars.

trip," she agreed. "It was sweet of you to come!"

Waiting for the cocktail Marica stepped out on the narrow balcony where vines hung loosely, fluttering in the warm breeze. She could look down on a patio that was, in turn, dazzling bright and deeply shadowed. It was filled with every sort of bloom and foliage, and she smelled a bit of what Marica called "Early Hollywood." Nevertheless it was effective. Her eyes grew languorously narrow as she looked down.

A few days with Marica were enough to convince Estelle that the visit was no answer to her loneliness. Marica was brutally frank in her conversation and her gossip was a sort far from agreeable to the girl.

"My dear," she would say. "He lived with her for years right under his wife's nose! Of course, knowing his wife, you can't help but sympathize with him. Besides, 'live and let live' is my motto. That's a sweet dress you have on, child!"

Frequently Marica would watch Estelle narrowly as she talked thus bitterly or frankly. The child would have no peace, Marica thought impatiently, until she had ceased dreaming and come to a blunt understanding of the world about her. Estelle seemed sometimes to be an incorrigible dreamer.

"Don't believe in anything and learn to take everything you can get," Marica said sharply one noon. "The sooner you do, the better for you! The only people who know anything like happiness are those who are absolutely heartless."

"But I don't want to believe that!" Estelle protested.

"You'll have to, sooner or later. I know! I was like you once but I got over it. The only thing to do is to laugh at everything and cheat when you can get away with it. That's as close as anyone gets to happiness."

Estelle started to go downstairs. As she threaded the narrow balcony looking down on the great living room she saw her father below. He was not alone.

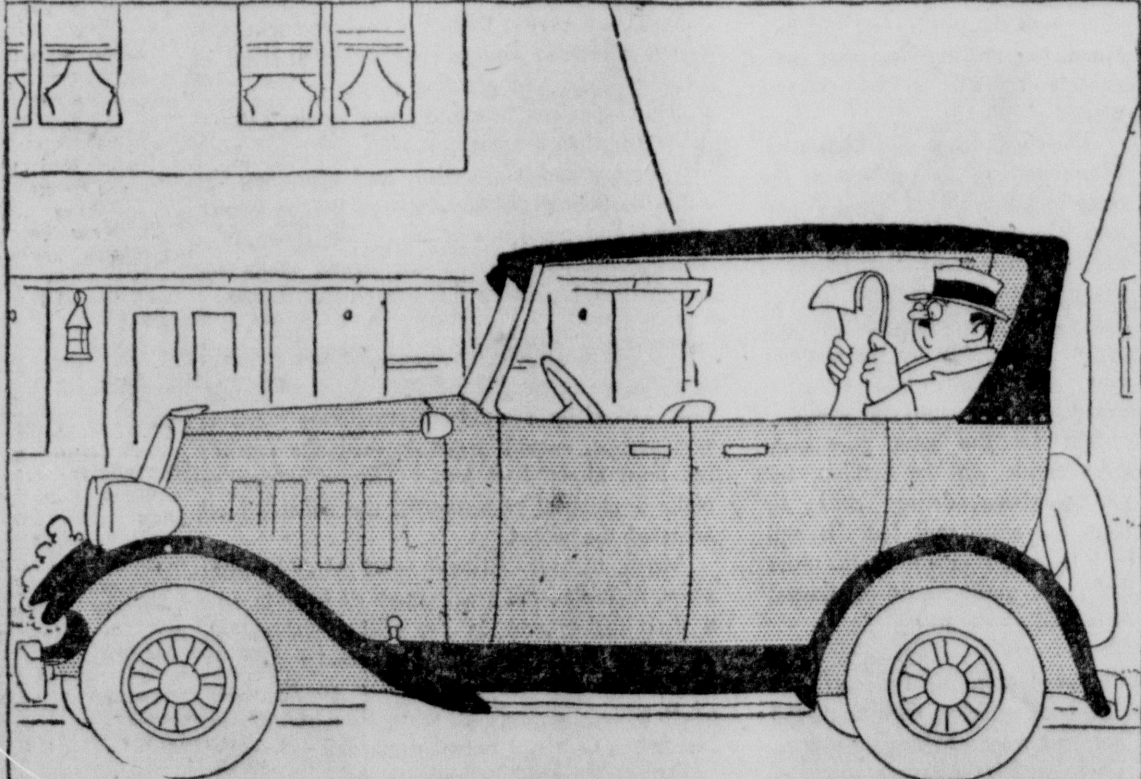

Suddenly the girl turned into her room, to stand there with hands against her hot cheeks.

WORLD CALAMITY HELD BACK by a BARRIER OF ICE

By Dr. Frank Thone

WHAT would happen if the earth's polar ice caps should melt? If the mysterious southern continent where Byrd and Ellsworth struggle with endless glaciers should become bare of all glaciers? If Greenland's icy mountains should lose all their ice?

The idea is not as impossible as it sounds. It is not normal for the earth to have its both ends frozen solid; it seems so merely because it has been so during all of man's recollected history.

The ancients and the men of the middle ages knew the boreal regions as lands of perpetual snow. Lief the Lucky was honest when he gave Iceland its name, but when he named Greenland he seems to have succumbed to the temptation that conquers most promoters of new real estate development: for it is probable that all he ever saw of green on that ice-sheeted sub-continent was a stretch of its shore country during the brief Arctic summer.

There is, to be sure, some suggestion that the world had milder seasons during the tenth and eleventh centuries, when the Vikings came, first to Greenland and then to America, followed by a return of the cold in about the fourteenth century, which froze out the hopeful colonies and sent the defeated settlers into their frozen graves or into sorrowful retreat to the homeland.

But what if this half-hypothetical amelioration of the world's climate should return, and continue long enough to clear away the last of the world's permanent ice? What other effects would it have, than to start a new boom in choice building lots in the suburbs of Upernavik? Would the world be, in the long run, gainer or loser by a complete thawing out?

THE first thing that all earth-scientists know is that, speaking in terms of geologic ages, it is the usual, the normal thing, for the earth to be ice-free. Ice ages, such as the one in whose twilight we moderns are living, have been the exception rather than the rule in the long history of the earth.

There have been only three such periods of really major importance, the Pleistocene age, which began a million years ago, more or less, and is still in process of liquidation; an Ice Age not long after the close of the Coal Age, perhaps a quarter of a billion years ago; and finally one near the dawn of all well-recorded life on earth, that misty period known as the Cambrian, vaguely from half a billion to two-thirds of a billion years back.

During the rest of the time the climate at the poles was at least temperate; some geologists used to believe it was outright tropical.

Among the scientists who have taken their pleasure in thinking what a "normal," ice-free earth might be like it should return while the human species is still in existence is Prof. W. J. Humphreys of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

This final melting off of the last remains of earth's ancient mantle of ice may come faster than we usually think possible for geologic processes. Professor Humphreys says it may happen in as little as 10,000 years.

The existence of permanently refrigerated spots on the earth has a decided influence on the behavior of the earth's blanketing ocean of air. The migrations of chilled air masses toward the south, their encounters with warmed air masses from the tropics migrating toward the north, and the ebb and flow of battle that ensues when such masses of air encounter each other, make up a large part of the story of the weather, especially in the temperate zones.

THE first and most important change a disappearance of the Arctic and Antarctic ice regions would accomplish, says Professor Humphreys, would be the removal of the present type of climatic contrasts in these middle latitudes.

The tropics, he thinks, would be relatively little changed, except perhaps that their present tropical characteristics might be intensified. But in the lands of the mid-latitudes, especially in the Northern Hemisphere (where the greater area of such lands lie) a startling and not at all favorable change in climate would occur.

At present, the great grain lands that feed the world—Canada and the United States, Russia and China, and in the Southern Hemisphere Australia and Argentina—owe their fruitfulness to the rain- and snow-yielding storms that result from the encounter of moisture-laden warm air from lower latitudes with chill, moisture-condensing air moving down from the regions of perpetual cold.

Remove the cool northern air currents, or weaken them appreciably, and the rains will dwindle or even cease altogether. This is the fate Professor Humphreys foresees for the great grain belts as they now exist: they will become first thin-grassed lands fit only for marginal herds of sheep and goats, then even that scant vegetational cover will disappear—its end hastened, perhaps, by desperate overgrazing carried on by starving nomad shepherds.

Then will Iowa and Nebraska, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, become extensions of a Great American Desert stretching southward to the borders of the Mexican tropics, empty and arid as the Sahara is now, the soil burned dry of its fertility by the summer suns and blown into towering dust-storms by occasional winds.

But for the most part even these winds will be lacking, for the wind-engendering cold air from the north will fail. It will be a land of stagnant death. And the great grain lands of central Europe and Asia will share its fate.

WHAT will the peoples of the earth do when the old, long relied-on corn lands fail them? The first and most obvious answer is, "go north." There will be folk-migrations of vast extent, compared with which those that preceded the Fall of Rome were but picnic excursions.

If we are no more civilized than we are now when this irresistible "Drang nach Norden" begins to make itself felt, if the nations possess-

If the polar wastes should melt, the great grain belts would become lands of stagnant death—with the likelihood of big migrations bringing on wars, famine, pestilence, and the crackup of civilization ing northern lands refuse to admit the hordes of new immigrants who will clamor for admittance and passage to the new frontier, there will unquestionably be terrific wars, and in the trail of those wars famine and pestilence.

It may well be that the whole structure of whatever civilization may be in existence at that time will collapse utterly, as that of the Roman West did under the weight of the Germanic hordes 1500 years ago, and a new and bitter Dark Age thus begin.

Nations possessing broad lands in the north may well be justified in denying their gates to hard-pressed folk from the increasingly desert south. For the lands of the north will not suffice to support as large a population as will by that time swarm in the grain-belt lands of the world.

On the ordinary Mercator-projection map these great northern lands—Alaska, northern Canada, Greenland, Siberia—loom huge. But look at a globe, or at a map that spreads and distorts the northern areas less, and you will at once see that their area, even if all were fertile, is not equal to that of the temperate-zone lands of the present day.

MOREOVER, much of this northern land will be unsuited for human support even when the ice does finally melt off.

A great deal of what is now forest in northeastern Canada stands on almost bare rock, with the roots of the trees holding precariously in a few inches of raw humus and half-decayed leaves and moss—"duff," the foresters call it.

So scanty is this foothold that a forest fire burns not only the trees but the very soil they stand in, leaving nothing but a sprinkling of ashes on the bald rock. Such lands must forever remain forest, to be of even minor usefulness to mankind.

Bald rock, also, will probably be the whole inheritance of the nations when the ice sheets over Greenland and Antarctica melt away. Much of the rock underlying the forests of Canada was left stark and bare when the great twin ice sheets of northeastern North America slowly retreated a hundred thousand years ago; any soil they may once have had is gone.

It is highly improbable that any appreciable part of the sub-ice surfaces of Greenland and Antarctica today are in any better case. They may some day be useful for airplane fields, and miners may exploit them for coal and minerals, but it is beyond human imagination to think of plowing them and planting corn.

But supposing peace to come among the nations (or their fragments) after the great wars of Arctica and Antarctica, and supposing the relics of their populations spared by the sword, famine and pestilence to be settled down in a wearied peace. Would the broad lands for which they fought be there to receive them?

NOT in anything like their present form. For the ice caps of the polar regions now contain, locked up away from circulation in rivers and oceans, enough water to raise the world's sea level about 150 feet. This is enough to make a material reduction in the coastal land areas of the world.

Much of our Atlantic and Gulf coastal areas, including the greater part of Florida and a deep embayment up the Mississippi valley, would be thus flooded. The greater part of Holland would disappear, and a goodly share of Belgium, as well as wide stretches of the North Sea coasts of both Britain and Germany.

Denmark would be reduced to a mere collection of tiny islands. The Baltic "succession states"—Finland, Lithuania and the rest—would have to cede stretches of their sea fronts to the hungry sea. Every harbor in the world would be rendered useless, and new ones created.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL HITS TAX INCREASES

FULLERTON, April 6.—Declaring he is running for the office of city council from a "sense of duty to the underdog," J. A. Vye last night talked to a group of people at the Wilshire auditorium. He had called the meeting previously and had invited other candidates for city council to appear.

In his short address, Vye called attention to conditions that are raising taxes and causing people to lose their homes and named particularly the present budget system of the city of Fullerton. He said funds for the chamber of commerce amounting to more than $20,000 have been paid out in the past 10 years.

He condemned ordinance 415, licensing merchants, and said the chamber had inspired that ordinance, and that "there is nothing in that ordinance to help the little man." Vye said he is running for office that he may assist in reducing taxes.

After his talk, he called on Harry May, secretary of the chamber of commerce, to answer the charges brought against the chamber, and May declared the ordinance Vye attacked is like license ordinances of other cities, in substance, and that the chamber has no excuse to offer for work of the past year, and series of years. He called attention to the uses to which his office has been placed in the government program, having been used as a clearing house and registration office, also.

Other candidates for the office of councilmen are William Potter, incumbent; J. B. Schott, grocer; Harry Maxwell, real estate broker, an official of the Mutual Building and Loan association; George Lillie, rancher, and Frank Treadwell, automobile mechanic. There are two vacancies to be filled at the election Monday, April 9, when the terms of Potter and Bert Annin expire.

FAUX PAS FOR CASEY

The chamber of commerce of Orlando, Fla., gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a banquet, attended by General Manager Bob Quinn of the Dodgers, Manager Stengel, local editors, and other guests. A few chicken and pompano consumers.

Stengel's speech was a howling success. Casey being the kind of man who makes up for distinction with emphasis. He went into the wonders of Orlando's climate, people, crops and quality of soil for the playing of baseball. And, at the end:

"Boy, you just can't beat this good old California weather for training a ball club!"

TINKER WAS THERE

Sitting across from the writer was Joe Tinker, shortstop of one of the greatest double-play combinations the game ever knew. Tinker to Diers to Chance. Joe runs a little real estate store, in which are large painted pictures and many a Tinker Heights and other developments into which Joe sunk quite a few of the bucks he made in baseball. Joe has been helping some of Brooklyn's young shortstops with a few tips.

It would not be surprising to see the Dodgers pop up with a star at short-in a year or so. Maybe it will be Linus Frey. His opinion of the Dodgers is that the team is not so bad as it has been painted, and "if there's to be anything gotten out of those boys, Casey is the fellow who can do the getting out."

A SIZZLING SHORTSTOP

"One of the go-getting shortstops I've ever seen," was Manager Mickey Cochrane's opinion of young "Salty" Parker, who can go either to his right or left, or up or down after a baseball. . . a tall guy, too, six feet . . . no chance is too hard for him. . . but he can't hit a lick. . . a great many ball clubs could use him, but with Rogell working for the Tigers, Parker probably will go back to the minors for seasoning.

SO NOW WHAT?

Outfielder Carl Reynolds seems to pop up with a different club each year. . . he has figured in more important trades than any other player in the league. . . The White Sox sent him to Washington. . . from which point he was traded to St. Louis last year, missing out on a world series. . . St. Louis traded him to the Red Sox, and there he is.

Examinations Delay Don Rugby Practice

Rugby practice, delayed this week at Santa Ana junior college on account of quarterly examinations, will begin next Monday, according to Coach Bill Cook.

The Don skipper has received enough encouragement the past few days to know that the English type of football will succeed in his annual spring drills.

"I am anxious to have everyone interested to turn out for the sport. Rugby is new here, and the inexperienced football player will stand a good chance in competition with the established star," Cook said.

"We plan to pick two teams of 30 players, and can use additional reserves. I am anticipating a roster of at least 50 athletes."

Among the more prominent athletes already reporting are Ray Hanes, Ben Slavin, Clair Preininger, Walt Gunther, Sammy Tucker, Jim Lash, Ray Hoar, Miles Norton, Bruce Handy, Loren Lukens, Frank Kroener and Ed Sparks.

BAER TO HEAD FOR EAST NEXT MONDAY

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—(UP)—Max Baer, heavyweight challenger, probably will leave here next Monday for the east where he will open training headquarters in preparation for his fight June 14 with Primo Carnera, Manager Anell Hoffman said today.

Meantime Baer is continuing his training program which includes a daily round of golf, an hour of road work and numerous sun baths. Hoffman said the trip east probably will require two weeks in view of tentative plans for six exhibition bouts. Hoffman said he wanted to be in New York not later than April 25.

RAMBLERS ARRANGE SEVEN GRID GAMES

Promoter Jack Fredericks announced today that he had completed arrangements whereby the Santa Ana Motorcycle club's new track on Newport boulevard will tie up with Joe Pirrone and Norman Louis last year, missing out on a world series. . . St. Louis traded him to the Red Sox, and there he is.

The deal will make it possible for the Santa Ana oval to obtain more and better riders for their Sunday afternoon racing venture.

The club's third show will be held this Sabbath.

DOTY-MEAD TEAM GOLF CLUB WINNER

Mrs. C. V. Doty and Miss Lolita Mead pieced together an 87-97.78 to win a best-ball tournament for Santa Ana Country club women golfers yesterday. They nosed out by a stroke Mrs. J. L. McPadden and Mrs. L. H. Robinson, 85-6-78, and Mrs. G. B. Talbert and Mrs. B. W. McClure, 90-11-79.

Class B winners: Mrs. N. W. Miller and Mrs. Don Andrews, 98-14-85, and Mrs. Lutz Schaffer and Mrs. C. K. Dodds, 103-16-87.

Kennedy Trims Angell; Hardin Conquers Curry

Shooting par golf, Don Kennedy turned back Frank "Red" Angell, three and two, in a second round spring tournament match at the Willowick Golf club yesterday. Ray Hardin of Long Beach also reached the semi-finals with a victory over Elmer Curry by the same margin.

Kennedy had the best medal score, an approximate 73. Hardin took 75, Angell and Curry 77.

S. A. SQUAD CLOSES VOLLEYBALL SEASON

Having previously clinched the championship of its division of the Southern California league, the Santa Ana Y. M. C. BURLEIGH WINS DECISION OVER KEUP AT BOWL

Inter-club boxing will begin at the Orange County Athletic club Bowl next Thursday night when Jim Jeffries, the old warhorse himself, brings a squad of Burbank amateurs to Sam Sampson's arena on 101st highway.

The Bowl's second show last night featured a group of Uncle Sam's sailors from the U. S. S. Pensacola, and the U. S. S. Indianapolis, ships now anchored off Long Beach.

Jack Burleigh, one of the premier welterweights of the Pacific fleet, earned a decisive decision over Anaheim's Norman Keup in the main event, Keup being so busy dodging Burleigh's relentless attack that he never had time to do anything but protect himself.

Burleigh, attached to the Pacific fleet, looked like a high class scrapper. He carried the fight to Keup all the way, keeping the Anaheim scrapper off-balance and unable to wage much of an offensive. Burleigh took all three rounds by a wide margin, and there was no dissenters among the large crowd.

Jack Ladley, off the Indianapolis had Benny Gomez on the floor three times during the last round of the semi-windup which he won convincingly. Gomez started well, but the sailor took the play away from him in the second and third rounds.

Gob met Gob in the special event, Joe Ranier of the Indiana "Carrying" "Swede" Ranier of the Pensacola three rounds in a poor bout.

One of the two CCC boys to make an able showing, "Bud" Derker scored a technical knockout over Johnny Luno of Garden Grove. Luno was down twice before his handlers threw in the sponge.

Another CCC boxer, Soutpaw Tom Sawyer, former Santa Ana high school ball player, knocked out Vic Orsco in the first round of what started out to be a wild set-to.

Paul Brown outpunched K. O. T. of the navy. Tony Pacheco shaded Henry Gomez in a swift bout. Elton Marriot stopped Oscar Bowen in the first heat. Tony Estrade decided "Buck" Durbin in a wrestling match. Johnny Raft opened the program with an unpopular victory over Bob Ace.

COLLEGE NINES IN TWO CRUCIAL TESTS

BERKELEY, April 6.—(UP)—University of Southern California's baseball barnstormers turned to beat Berkeley today to complete their Northern California tour. The Trojans meet the Bear nine today and again tomorrow in intercollegiate conference games.

U. S. C. won a double-header from St. Mary's yesterday, capturing the opener, 7-5, by timely hitting and running away with the win by a 10-3 score.

The California club leads the conference by a margin of two games. The Bears defeated the Trojans in a recent Los Angeles series, two games to one.

PIPING 'EM OFF

(B United Press) BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Lou Gehrig, durable first baseman of the Yankees, expected to exchange places with a dentist today. He feared he might be forced to part with a wisdom tooth which ached all day yesterday. He didn't figure that out today's game with the Birmingham Barons. The Yankees beat the Barons yesterday in the first of the two-game series, 7 to 3.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Before the Braves left for Baltimore to meet the Orioles Sunday, Manager Bill Bozzone spiked rumors that Pitcher Ed Brandt might be traded to the Dodgers for a second baseman. He said Brandt was not on the market. Since Brandt is the man "Casey" Stengel of the Dodgers wants, a deal may be off.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The Giants' slugging for an exhibition here today, Meanwhile Manager Bill Terry of the Giants is worried because of his regulars' failure to hit. Terry emerged from his slump in New Orleans but is back in again. While Terry is failing to set an example, and his men are failing the air, Joe Vosmik of the Indians has become positive poison for the Giants.

BRADENTON, Fla.—"Dazzy" Vance, the ancient speedball specialist, is making a determined comeback and may do well with Cincinnati this season. If yesterday's performance is any indication. Playing against Newark at Tampa, the Dazzler went seven innings, hit four, and made four singles at bat. Despite this, the Reds lost 3 to 1.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The Chicago Cubs wrote on their way home today with a record of 13 victories and 7 defeats in pre-season training games. They beat the San Antonio Texas league club yesterday, 13-0, their first shutout of the training season. "Chuck" Klein, $12,500, hit his first home run since joining the Cubs. Billy Jurges and Catcher "Babe" Phelps also hit homers.

TUCSON, Ariz.—The Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox left Arizona behind them today as they resumed their spring barnstorming tour eastward with the Pirates holding the upper hand in the latest game of the series. The Cubs won yesterday, 4 to 3. Zeke Bonura, Chicago rookie first baseman, kept his exhibition hitting streak intact by hitting safely in his 16th game.

Smiling and shaking hands, Tommy Loughran, left, and Walter Neusel are the best of friends, but the night of May 4 will find them battling in the ring for a crack at the winner of the Carnera-Bear heavyweight title bout. Jimmy Johnston, center, is Madison Square Garden matchmaker.

NEUSEL NEXT FISTIC CHAMP? 'Loughran is Foolish to Meet German'—McLemore BOUT WILL HURT GARDEN TOO

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 6.—The boys who work the Carnera-Loughran fight in Miami tell me that Tommy Neusel is a divinely destined to win the world's heavyweight championship, and that even the kicking around Primo gave him failed to shake his faith.

Madison Square Garden must share in this belief, too, for yesterday it matched Loughran with Walter Neusel for a 10-rounder on the night of May 4, with the winner almost certain to get a shot at the fellow who is champion when Max Baer and Carnera finish their shooting match in June.

Why the Garden picked Loughran for Neusel instead of Steve Hamas is tough to figure out, unless it's true that "Uncle Charley" Harvey knows that his Steve isn't as good as he looked looking Schmeling and isn't taking chances. If this isn't the case, and Tommy was the Garden's first choice, the Garden is crazy with a capital K. The Miami bout proved that Loughran wouldn't draw halfhearted money. If he couldn't draw it with the championship of the world, he certainly doesn't stand to attract much trade with a twice-removed challenger.

If the Garden was crazy in making it, Loughran was twice as daffy taking it. He'll be divinely tired rather than divinely inspired at the end of this one. And the "end" is apt to be well in advance of the scheduled ten rounds. I've argued all along that the first tough gent who gets in there and

Dons Get Bye As J. C. Conference Schedule Begins

Fullerton and Riverside rank as early favorites on the Eastern jaycee conference baseball schedule which opens tomorrow. It will be the third diamond season sponsored by the league.

Santa Ana and San Bernardino, respective champions of 1933 and '32, are the "dark horses" this term, with Pomona, Citrus and Chaffey rating below them in the order named.

Riverside and Pomona played their first assignment at Pomona yesterday, while San Bernardino travels to Fullerton, and Chaffey to Citrus for games tomorrow. San Francisco and Sacramento handed another drubbing to the league dark horses, the Mission Reds.

In pitching Hollywood to a 6-3 win over Oakland, Frank Shellenback, veteran spitballer, registered his 262nd win, setting a new league record. Shellenback was in excellent form to begin his 15th season, holding the Oaks to six hits. The Stars fell on Hal Hald and McEvoy for four runs in the eighth to see the bull game.

LUVALLE SCRATCHED FROM BRUIN RACES

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Jimmy LuValle, star sprinter on the U. C. L. A. track team, will watch tomorrow's meet with San Jose State from the sidelines, it was announced today.

His energy will be conserved for future meets as the Bruins are confident of beating San Jose with an avalanche of points. His place in the 440 and relay will be filled by Tom Donlon.

HOPPE BEATS COCHRAN

CHICAGO, April 6.—(UP)—Willie Hoppe, New York, moved in a little closer to the top in the 13.2 ballgame international championship tournament last night by defeating Welker Cochran, San Francisco, 400 to 348 in 10 innings.

COUNTY NIGHT LEAGUE'S RACE BEGINS MAY 21

With Monday May 21 definitely set as a starting date, Orange County Night Ball league officials today awaited word from Brea before deciding whether the so-called "B" farm of the National league would have eight or six teams this summer.

Santa Ana, Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Orange, Irvine and Olive—the 1933 participants—are sure to toe the line again. If Brea enters, an eighth club, probably Placentia, will be invited into the family.

The league held its annual dinner meeting at the Green Cat cafe here last night. Bill Cole and Victor Walker, both Santa Anans, were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Those present were Cole, Walker, Joe Harless and Eddie West, Santa Ana; Ben Gelker and Joe Moise, Olive; Jack Giedhill and Joseph Rapier, Anaheim; Oscar Stuthell and Ray Arguello, Orange; Gene Thomas, Irvine, and Joe Neuls and Virgil Kiker, Brea.

Rudy Heman, veteran pitcher, has been offered the manager's position with the Olive Packers, who go into training at their new ball park tonight. Heman has not given an answer yet but officials of the club believe he will agree to take over the duties vacated by Bill Cole.

Among the players scheduled to report for practice are Heman and Jack Dugan, pitchers; Al Reboin and George Hanlin, catchers; Elmer Coots and Bill Sweet, first basemen; Floyd Hatfield and Ora Griffith, shortstop; Ralph Jertberg, third baseman; Fritz Gunther, Russ Porter, "Red" Kidder, outfielders. Hanlin, Coots, Jertberg and Porter are former Whittier players.

Olive's first exhibition game will be with San Bernardino next Friday night. The rest of the schedule: April 17—at Riverside; April 20—Redlands at Olive; April 23—Riverside at Olive; April 26—Green Cats at Santa Ana; April 27—at Redlands; May 1—Rialto at Olive; May 4—at Anaheim; May 7—at San Bernardino; May 9—at Pomona.

Joe Harless, field boss of the Santa Ana Green Cats, completed a schedule of nine spring exhibition games for his club today. The County leaguers report at the Municipal Bowl Monday night, and open against Westminster at Westminster next Friday. Other games: April 18, 23 and 25—Santa Ana at Santa Ana; April 26—at Olive; April 27—at Anaheim; May 4—at Fullerton; May 8 or 10—at Brea. Harless also has arranged a contest with Irvine.

EBRIGHT GLOOMY AS BEARS START NORTH

BERKELEY, April 6.—(UP)—Ky Ebright, California crew coach, was "downright pessimistic" today about the chances of his inexperienced varsity against University of Washington's first boat in next week's regatta at Seattle.

"Why seven of the eight men in my varsity boat have never been in a race before, Ebright said as he gathered his men together preparatory to starting tonight for Seattle.

SHELLENBACK SETS COAST MOUND MARK

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—The Los Angeles Angels, picked by many experts to trail at least two other clubs in the 1934 race in the Pacific Coast league, had a flying start today toward a new pennant.

The Angels chalked up their third straight victory at Portland's expense yesterday and remained alone at the top of the league, a position they held when the curtain came down on the 1933 campaign.

Hollywood and San Francisco, selected on pre-season strength to lead the Angels across the wire, also won their Thursday games and Sacramento handed another drubbing to the league dark horses, the Mission Reds.

In pitching Hollywood to a 6-3 win over Oakland, Frank Shellenback, veteran spitballer, registered his 262nd win, setting a new league record. Shellenback was in excellent form to begin his 15th season, holding the Oaks to six hits. The Stars fell on Hal Hald and McEvoy for four runs in the eighth to see the bull game.

RAMAGE SIGNS FOR GO WITH LEVINSKY

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—The last barrier in the path of a 10-round bout here between King Levinsky and Lee Ramage was cleared today when "Pop" Hubley, manager of the San Diego heavyweight, signed articles for the match.

The bout will be staged over the ten-round route at the Olympic April 17.

Promoters said a special train will carry a thousand San Diego fans here for the match.

Jiro Satoh, Japan Court Ace, Suicide

TOKIO, April 6.—(UP)—Japanese sportsmen today mourned Jiro Satoh, 26, captain of the Japanese Davis Cup team and one of the greatest tacticians tennis ever knew. He committed suicide yesterday by leaping into the sea off Singapore from the liner Hakone Maru.

Satoh and his teammates were bound for England to meet the Australian team in the second round of play for the historic trophy. Both had drawn byes in the first round.

Wireless reports from the Hakone Maru indicated Satoh had thrown himself into the Strait of Malacca during a fit of depression. He was on the verge of a nervous breakdown because he thought he might be unfit to play against the Australians because of illness.

STARS OF A.I.R. SPEEDWAYS ON LEGION'S CARD

Stars of radio, a jazz drum and bugle corps, kings of the motor speedway, 20 midwest racing cars and celebrities are included in the potpourri of fun and excitement which Santa Ana, post No. 131, American Legion, will launch at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl tomorrow night.

Four special entertainment features, qualifying heats for all cars entered, and nine racing events comprise the program. Qualifying heats begin at 8:30, the race contests at 8.

Radio stars will include Cliff Clark, the circus Barker of the Gilmore Blue-Green hour; Jack Clifford, the sheriff; Bob Burns, known as Soda Pop; and Cliff Arquette, the popular Aunt Addie. Other celebrities on the program are Al Gordon, 1933 Pacific Coast A. A. racing champion and winner of the 250-mile road race held recently at Mines field; "Spider" Matlock, crash champion who will act as starter; and Mrs. Teddy Telfair, widow of the famous race driver of other years, who will present a trophy to the driver making the fastest time on the inaugural program. Gordon will be at the track with his championship car.

The Ben Bowie drum and bugle corps of Los Angeles, the only drum group in existence playing jazz on bugles, will be a musical feature.

Work on the track has been completed and the associated race officials pronounce it fast. Better time than has been scored at other courses is expected as the Bowl's fifth-mile oval is free of the sand which is a problem at other speedways. Heavy barricades have been built at the curves to protect spectators and to keep skidding cars on the track.

58 Begin Practice On Stanford Grid

PALO ALTO, April 6.—(UP)—Spring football practice for the Stanford squad, co-champions of the Pacific Coast conference, got under way here with 58 players reporting to Coach Claude Thornhill. The coach said today that 90 men would be in uniform before the BEAR SPRINTER TO RUN ANCHOR LAP OF RELAY?

Radio KREG will broadcast a telegraphic report of the Southern California-California track meet tomorrow, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

BERKELEY, April 6.—On the eve of an important track meet with the University of Southern California team, "Bullet Bob" Kiesel, star California sprinter, was confined to his home today by a cold.

California counted on Kiesel to win both sprints in the meet with the Trojans here tomorrow. Coach Brutus Hamilton believed that the sprinter would be ready to compete.

Rumors were current on the Berkeley campus that, if fit, Kiesel will run the anchor-lap of the relay—should the relay decide the meet. While "Bullet Bob" never has run the quarter-mile in competition, he is said to be capable of 47 flat.

The Southern California squad, manned by 35 members, enroute tonight for Berkeley.

The consensus is that the Trojans, despite the loss of Norman Paul, star hurdler and broad jumper, will vanquish the Bears by a slight margin. A California win, however, would come as no great surprise.

Injuries to Paul, co-holder of the world's record in the 220-yard low hurdles, have deprived the Trojans of an almost certain first place, and have forced Coach Dean Cromwell to make several shifts in his lineup. To fill the place left vacant when Paul re-injured a leg muscle last week, Ed Ablowich has been shifted from the 440. Al Fitch, who started the year as one of the leading Trojan sprinters, will run the quarter-mile, and Foy Draper, who out-sprinted Charley Parsons in the S. C. San Francisco university meet last week, will make the trip as an entry in the 100- and 220-yard dashes.

Illness Confines Promoter Pickens

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Bill Pickens, well-known sports promoter, was confined to his home here today with blood poisoning. His condition was reported serious although not critical.

Infection developed after Pickens stepped on a rusty nail at Mines field where he recently helped promote a 250-mile stock car road race.

HISTORY MAKER PROGRAM TO BE HEARD TONIGHT

"Millions for defense; but not one cent for tribute!" This famous quotation by Charles Pickney, Ambassador to France in 1796, forms the theme of tonight's presentation of "Makers of History," by George C. Johnson, Studebaker dealer in Santa Ana, on KREG, at 6:45, under the title of "War With Tripoli."

Proceeding the year 1801, it was the custom of the United States to pay $18,000 a year to Tripoli for "protection" against "pirating" of American ships in Mediterranean waters. As the amount of commerce increased, the ruler of Tripoli thought to increase the amount of tribute. Thomas Jefferson, then President of the United States, not only refused to sanction the increase, but declared that no further tribute money would be paid. This refusal brought the "pirates" down upon American shipping and subsequent events, portrayed by an all-star cast, bring to an interesting and surprising close the three years' war with Tripoli.

PERSONALITIES OF NOTE WILL BE DISCUSSED

This week's broadcast of "People Who Make News," on KREG tonight, at 7:30, will include more prominent personalities who have "made the headlines" during the past week, station officials announced.

They will include Dr. William Albert Wirt, the educator, who startled the nation last week with charges of a Communist plot to seize control of the Federal government; William Merringer, who made the front pages by cooking a rabbit stew that netted him $150,000; Bao Dai, Emperor of Annam, a bridegroom in one of the most colorful wedding ceremonies of modern times; and Arturo Toscanini, the greatest symphony orchestra conductor in the world, according to many musical critics, who breaks glass-topped tables, hurls sizzling words at his orchestra during rehearsals and complicated scores.

The broadcast of "People Who Make News" is made each week under the auspices of "News-Week."

FAMOUS STUNT FLYER ON KREG THIS EVENING

"Spider" Matlock, world famous stunt flyer, race driver, riding mechanic and usually present whenever automobile races are held, who will act as official starter at the American Legion midget auto races tomorrow night, in Santa Ana, will be interviewed before KREG's microphone tonight at 5 o'clock by Charles Swanner, local Legion Post commander.

A colorful figure, Matlock has been in the hospital over 400 times because of accidents during his 15 years in races, but he is still "going strong" and will tell listeners some interesting details of exciting events during the broadcast tonight.

Matlock has been with midget car racing since it started eight years ago, and, like other veteran drivers, predicts that the game will surpass all other forms of racing before long, it was stated.

One is married now, and she takes your medicine, too." —Mrs. Marie Lubeck, 1024 Clinton Road, Bronx, New York.

Law Change Brings Many Payments Of Back Taxes

MAKES SAVINGS FOR TAXPAYERS: DEADLINE SOON

The new law permitting taxpayers to redeem delinquent taxes upon their property over a period of five years, instead of requiring immediate redemption, is bringing thousands of dollars in back taxes into the county treasury, according to County Auditor W. T. Lambert, who explained that the new plan represents a large saving in penalties to the taxpayer, in interest charges.

To take advantage of the law, however, the taxpayer must make his initial payment on or before April 20, Lambert warned.

Unless that is done, delinquent taxes are handled in the ordinary way and the property goes the way of all delinquent property, he said.

But, by paying the current year's taxes, together with interest on such back taxes, by April 20, the taxpayer then gets the advantage of the new law, and can spread the balance of his delinquent tax into 10 payments over a period extending to April 20, 1938.

Instead of being charged the usual interest rate of one per cent per month, the taxpayer, under the postponement plan, will be charged only a straight seven per cent per annum on delinquent balances, said the auditor.

As an illustration of the saving involved to the taxpayer if he makes payment by April 20, Lambert showed a comparison of total charges for a 1929-30 tax bill of $145.13 under the two systems, the bill being selected at random from the tax rolls, as one reaching the limit of delinquency before being finally sold to the state.

Under the regular tax system, the total tax, including penalties added from 1929, and interest at one per cent per month, the $145.13 would be increased to $782.25 this year. Under the new plan, with interest on the 1929-30 and subsequent years figured at 7 per cent per year, starting in 1932, the same total this year would be but $670, a saving of $119.25.

To take advantage of the new plan, in the $145.13 tax case, it would require an initial total payment of $257.92, which would include the taxes for this year, and at least one-tenth of the back taxes, and interest up to date upon all back taxes, at seven per cent.

Young Musicians Play In Recital

Johnnie Stout, youthful Orange violinist, and Olive Elleonor Scheltzer, Santa Ana pianist, gave a musical program Wednesday which brought forth warm expressions of approval from the Los Angeles Ebell club. More than 1000 heard the program.

Mrs. Bertrand Eugene Green, curator of music and art section of the club, assured the young entertainers that without doubt they will be invited to perform before large groups of music lovers this coming year, and that probably they will be asked to appear in the Hollywood Bowl.

COUNTY COAST ASSOCIATION TO MEET APRIL 17

Because of a number of conflicting meetings, directors of the Orange County Coast association will postpone the monthly meeting until April 17, when the membership meeting will be held at Birds cafe, Laguna Beach, at 6:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

President C. G. Huston is preparing a program which will include an address by E. E. East, chief engineer of the Auto Club of Southern California, who will discuss the recent suggestion made by directors of the club for the state to take over all rural roads in the state.

The question of the school building code also will come up for discussion, it was announced. Many districts are finding difficulty in attaining the standard of construction laid down by the state, and ways and means of solving the problem will be presented, it was stated.

Party To Be Held By Night School

The Santa Ana Evening High school student body is planning a big party for tonight in the Poly high gym, it was announced today.

The party will begin at 7:30 o'clock with games under the direction of R. R. Russick, men's gymnasium teacher for the adult education department; in another part of the gym will be a group of tables for cards, and the evening will close with dancing to music by The Melodians. Refreshments will be served.

PLAN MEETING OF CLUBS FOR TALK ON ROADS

Arrangements were being made today to set a definite date in the near future for either a joint meeting of Santa Ana service clubs or a public mass meeting to be called by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce to hear E. E. East, chief engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California, discuss a new plan to place rural roads in the state under the jurisdiction of the state department of highways.

President J. P. Baumgartner has appointed a committee composed of Harry Hanson, representing the Lions club, Fred Newcomb, representing Kiwanis club, and W. H. Spurgeon, representing the Rotary club, to make arrangements for the meeting, working with Secretary George A. Raymer.

The board of directors of the auto club has approved the idea of placing all rural roads in the state under the jurisdiction of a state department of highways and of increasing the allocation of gasoline tax revenue to the cities to use with some restriction, in the upkeep and improvement of city streets.

The plan would eliminate duplication of effort and equipment. East said in a letter to the board, and the taxpayers of the state would be saved, over a period of years, millions of dollars and, at the same time soon bring the road system up to a high state of efficiency.

OFFICER SAYS FEW ALIENS IN ORANGE COUNTY

Although Orange county is believed by federal authorities to be pretty well cleaned up in regard to aliens living here without legal residence in the United States, immigration authorities in the county, with headquarters in the Santa Ana Federal building, today were making preparations for an extensive check around May 1 when an influx of labor is expected in an attempt to obtain work in orange harvesting and packing.

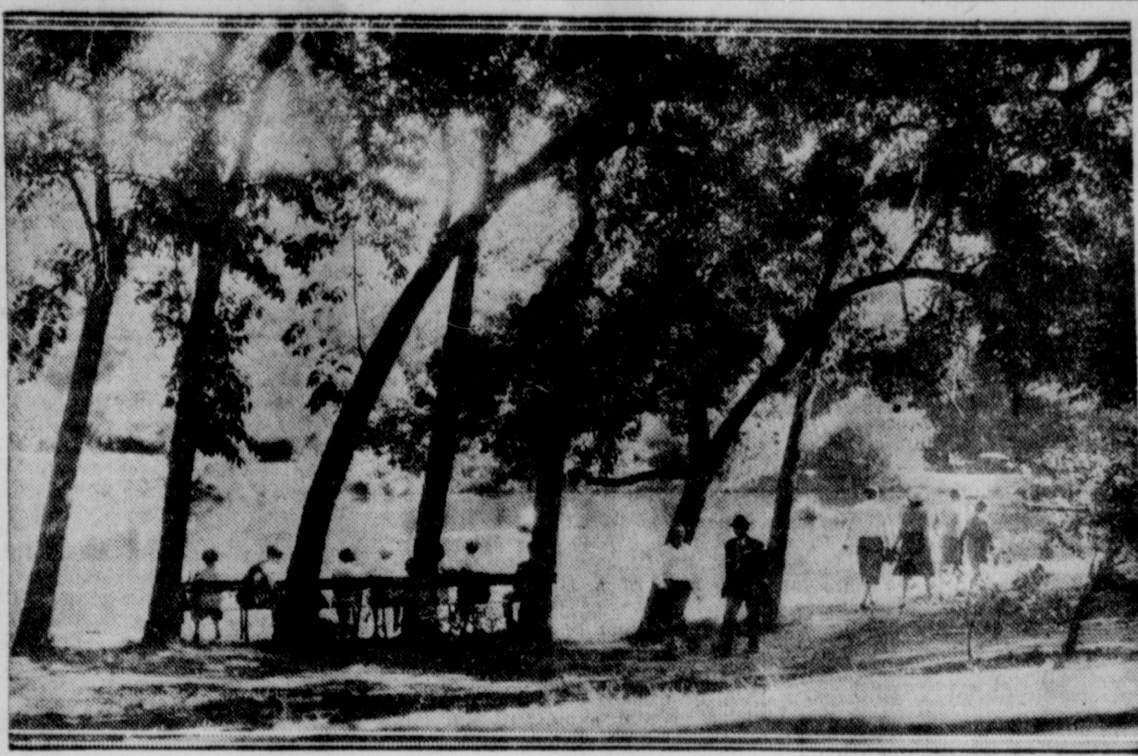

Franklin Davis, who is in charge of the county immigration offices, said today that a heavy flow of Mexican labor is expected to come here when the Valencia season is launched around May 1.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30 last year, the local office investigated 3085 aliens. Of this amount, he said, 797 were in penal institutions or in hospitals. The balance were at large. Warrants of arrest were applied for 85 of them, nearly all of whom were deported or were allowed to leave the United States voluntarily. About 75 per cent of the aliens here are Mexicans, he said.

So far this fiscal year, investigations have been conducted in about 300 cases, and warrants of arrest were applied for in 57 cases, most of whom have been deported.

Davis is assisted in his work here by Carl Floud and Frank Alhouse, immigration inspectors.

IRVINE PARK POPULAR PLACE

KIWANIANS TO GIVE MINSTREL SHOW AT PARTY

Detailed plans for a Kiwanis club dinner party and entertainment event to be held next Tuesday night in the Ebell clubhouse were announced today by Dr. Harry G. Huffman.

The event will start with a dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m., to be followed by a minstrel show to be staged by a group of 18 members of the club. Don Rice is producing the show, and Fred Newcomb is manager. Jerry Hall and Art Cannon are in charge of the musical events. The event will take the place of the regular meeting next week. Women will be honored guests.

The speaker of the day at the club meeting Wednesday was Dr. D. D. Whyntick, soil chemist with laboratories in Anaheim, who told interesting incidents experienced in a trip to South America. He was introduced by Fleetwood Bell.

F. N. Chapin, chairman of the vocational guidance committee, asked for volunteers from the club to address Santa Ana junior college classes on vocational and business methods and practices.

J. P. Baumgartner, president of the chamber of commerce, announced plans for a meeting to hear E. E. East, chief engineer for the Auto Club of Southern California, discuss a proposed plan for the state to take over all rural roads in the state.

COUNTY BUILDERS TO HEAR STATE BUILDING, LOAN OFFICER

Neil Davis, secretary of the California Building and Loan League, will be the featured speaker at the regular monthly membership meeting of the Orange County Builders Exchange next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock in the Costa Mesa Woman's clubhouse, it was announced today by Frederic W. Sanford, secretary.

The speaker will discuss conditions in the construction industry at the present time and the upswing in building loans, according to the announcement.

J. C. Harris will act as chairman of the evening and will introduce the speaker. I. W. McFarlane, general program chairman, arranged the program, which will be in charge of painting contractors and paint dealers.

A program of entertainment will be presented prior to the address and business session, which will be presided over by President C. M. Gilbert.

INVESTIGATION OF 'OUTSIDE' SHOWS ASKED

A request that the board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce investigate promotional exhibitions and shows staged by outside interests in Santa Ana was made by Lester J. Fountain, manager of the Broadway and Fox West Coast theaters, to members of the board at the directors' meeting Wednesday.

Fountain said that these shows and exhibitions take a considerable amount of money out of the city while the promoters actually invested no money in the city at all.

The usual plan is to obtain the endorsement of some local organization before staging the events,

Fountain said, with the agreement that the local group would receive some percentage of the profits. The events usually end, he said, with merchants and others in the city "holding the sack."

President J. P. Baumgartner said he concurred with Fountain's views and that the chamber of commerce would take action to investigate any such events should the occasion arise and the matter is presented to them.

Annulment Given To Jack Strobel

Superior Judge H. G. Ames has granted Jack Hector Strobel an annulment of his marriage to Violet G. Strobel, which took place in Long Beach November 19, 1932.

Strobel said that his wife represented to him that she had been married twice before and that her child was the son of her second husband. On April 15, 1933, he said, he learned that the child really was born out of wedlock and that its father was then serving a term in San Quentin.

IMPROVEMENT STATE LEGION IS MADE IN HEAD TO SPEAK TELETYPE UNIT HERE THURSDAY

Declared to be one of the great engineering achievements in teletype communication, the police teletypes throughout the state are now being equipped with a selective dialing attachment which makes it possible for one station to communicate with any other stations desired and eliminate all units not concerned with the message.

The equipment in the sheriff's office here is now being tested and will be in continuous operation after today. By using a dial similar to a telephone dial, the local operator notifies the Los Angeles control of the one or several stations he desires on the line, and the message is then sent out to these stations only.

The greatest advantage of the new setup is to prevent leaks in confidential information, saving of paper and wear and tear on equipment. It was perfected after several years of research by Bell Telephone company engineers.

Sheriff Logan Jackson and Herman Zabel, identification bureau head, both praised the new equipment and declared it would simplify and speed up crime prevention work.

State Commander Homer Chailaux, of the American Legion, will be the speaker at an assembly in Julia Lathrop junior high school Thursday, April 12, as part of Santa Ana post's observance of state Public Schools week in Santa Ana, it was announced today by Legion officials.

The Lathrop assembly will be one of two arranged by the Legion, the first being scheduled Wednesday, April 11, in Frances Willard junior high school.

Otherwise, observance of the event will be confined to urging parents to visit the schools during that week, according to City School Superintendent Frank Henderson.

Henderson was named as a member of the Southern California committee for Public Schools week, by Charles Albert Adams, state chairman. He is the only Orange county educator on the committee, which also includes Charles E. Teach of San Luis Obispo, former principal of Orange union high school, a post Henderson later occupied.

Public Schools week is scheduled to begin April 23 elsewhere in the state.

MOTORISTS URGED TO CHECK PLUGS

After a winter's driving, when the heaviest toll upon the car's electrical system is exacted, it is essential that the ignition system be in good condition in order to enjoy the maximum of motoring, according to automotive engineers, who recommend the following:

See that battery connections are tight, and not corroded; clean and adjust distributor points; set generator charging rate to take care of reduced load in spring driving.

Check all ignition wires to see that they are not oil soaked; inspect starter; clean spark plugs; adjust gap; replace plugs if old ones are badly worn; check lights; see that the connections are tight, insuring good service; replace bulbs if they are dim.

APRIL 15 DEADLINE ON CORN-HOG PACTS

April 15 has been set as the closing date for acceptance of the corn-hog contracts.

In setting this deadline, said W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, Secretary Wallace and Administrator Davis acted to expedite the corn and hog surplus control program so there would be no unnecessary delay in getting adjustment benefit payments into the hands of co-operating producers.

Producers who do not have all of their supporting evidence may fill out the contract and file it at the farm advisor's office. Additional time will be given to obtain evidence where it is needed.

All producers who are not informed on the details of this program of eliminating unmarketable surpluses which depress returns to growers are invited to obtain details at the farm advisor's office, Cory said.

Baby's Recent Arrival Occasions Pretty Shower

Recent arrival of a baby daughter in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Newell L. Moore, 1905 North Main street, occasioned a party given Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Milo K. Tedstrom and Mrs. E. L. Russell joined in extending a pretty courtesy to Mrs. Moore.

The affair was given in the Tedstrom home, 1548 West Washington avenue, where nasturtiums, sweet peas and columbine were used in carrying out a pink and yellow decorative theme. Early in the afternoon Mrs. Moore was showered with gifts presented to her in a pink umbrella and all designed for the use of small Peggy Lou Moore, the new daughter.

Bridge was played, with Mrs. W. D. Tibbs and Mrs. Aubrey Gilman scoring first and second high. Refreshments were served at card tables whose pretty centerpieces furthered the pink and yellow color motif.

Guests of Mrs. Tedstrom and Mrs. Russell, other than Mrs. Moore, the honoree, were Mesdames H. G. Wilson, James Anderson, Ira Kroese, W. D. Tibbs, Aubrey Gilman, Ralph Cole, J. H. Criddle, Hiram Currey, Kenneth Sutherland, Stanley Palmer, C. H. Dean, J. L. Schilling, Paul Rumph, E. F. Bruning, Orlan Robertson and H. G. Huffman.

Eastern Star

Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., members had the pleasure of receiving their deputy worthy grand matron on Monday night in Masonic temple, when Mrs. May Henry of Garden Grove made her official visit and saw the exemplification of the work by a well-organized staff of officers.

Mrs. Henry was accompanied by her husband, Charles Henry, "deputy worthy grand trailer," who was accorded special escort courtesies together with Mrs. Hazel Bishop and Dr. B. D. Mason, worthy matron and patron, of Laguna Beach chapter; 16 past matrons and three past patrons were present.

Mrs. Nell Neighbor and Franklin West, worthy matron and patron, and their staff of officers demonstrated the entire ritualistic work of the order, and this formed the evening's program. At its conclusion members and their guests were invited to the dining room. Mrs. Lois Osterman and her committee, Betty Smith, Bess Langley and Beth West had arranged an Easter scene. Easter was suggested not only by the cruciform tables with their shining Easter lilies, but by the refreshment course, which included pear salads representing rabbits.

Mrs. Helen Lurker was in charge of the kitchen committee, composed of Mildred Weisgerber, Berntha Bruce, Alice White, Florence Tralle and Pearl Wallingford.

Quill Pen Club Guest Reads Short Essay At Club Meeting

Entertained as an interesting guest of Quill Pen club Tuesday night in Mrs. Roy Winchester's home, 414 Harwood Place, Miss Helen H. Santmyer generously contributed to the program of the evening.

Miss Santmyer, a former member of the reading staff of Scribner's Magazine, has achieved a certain success in the magazine fiction field, so it was with increased interest that club members listened to some of her work. She chose to read "The Cemetery," one of a series of tales of the little Ohio town in which her childhood was spent. The article touched on all those present, and in the minds of all development some rather unusual philosophy.

Mrs. J. U. Vau leaped the decades until 1889 with her whimsical and humorous tale on "The New Model Code." Mrs. Marie Fowler had not yet titled her romantic story of thwarted revenge. Completing the program, Miss Lella Watson read the April contribution from Miss Dorothy Gardner, who in spite of the fact that she is teaching in Porterville, had sent her manuscript, a cleverly written character sketch, "Portrait of a Lady."

Discussion of the various contributions and of matters of general club interest was to the accompaniment of hot Swedish rolls which Mrs. Winchester had baked to serve with a molded fruit salad, coffee and devilfood cake. Mrs. E. Neal Stanley and Mrs. J. D. Campbell assisted in serving.

The club will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Frank J. Was, 617 Orange avenue. Members present Tuesday night were Mrs. Winchester, the hostess; Mrs. Blanche Brown, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, Mrs. Marie Fowler, Mrs. Maude Goff, Mrs. Marshall Harlow, Mrs. S. B. Marshall, Mrs. E. Neal Stanley, Mrs. J. U. Vau, Mrs. Frank Was, Miss Lella Watson, Mrs. N. E. Wells and Mrs. Emmett Elliott, with Miss Santmyer, a guest.

1 square inch of cheese

Peel and cut the apple into thin match-like slices. Dice the heart of a bunch of celery, mix the two, add a pinch of salt and the salad dressing. Serve on lettuce hearts.

Rest during your lunch hour; set a small table or arrange your own luncheon on a tray, set a comfortable chair, something to read, and forget all about housework for a little while. Utter relaxation is the mainspring which keeps women going; the partial relaxation afforded by a quiet lunch hour gets one over the worst of the day without frayed nerves.

To follow reducing diet intelligently you need a working knowledge of food values as expressed by the calory system. Getting this "working knowledge" is something else again. But why bother your head when you can get this knowledge vicariously? I have a grand list covering 880 items of food commonly used on our tables. These food values listed in average language, spoonfuls etc.—nothing left to your imagination—no guesswork.

You may have this list free of charge by sending me a stamped self-addressed envelope and one of your favorite tested recipes.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Liver Hash

2 cups brown rice (raw)

1 large onion

1 pound lamb's liver

6 strips of bacon

Bacon fat, about 3 tablespoons

Brown rice is unhusked rice. Its use is advocated for the value carried in that brown hull. The ingredients in the hulls of grains carries an element which helps grow good hair, smooth nails and skin. It is said that this element is an important factor in the color of hair staying youthful as one ages.

Cook the rice in plenty of boiling salted water. Rice is cooked when you can mash a grain between thumb and forefinger. Drain the rice, rinse under hot running water, and drain again.

Grind the onion and fry in a little bacon fat. Add to the rice and mix thoroughly.

Cook the liver in one piece or use the cooked left-over liver. Grind and stir through the rice, adding a little of the liver broth, if there is none, beat an egg with 1-4 cup of milk and stir through the rice. Pack the hash into a shallow baking dish, place the strips of bacon over the hash and bake 45 minutes in a slow oven.

There are approximately 3000 calories in this dish, serving six. Serve with it a green cooked vegetable, a raw salad, either fruit or vegetable, and a simple dessert.

Pretty Party Yields Special Gifts for Honor Guest

Several Santa Ana friends of Mrs. Glen W. Rayhawk of Anaheim were bidden to join guests from the latter city in the enjoyment of a charmingly appointed shower given Monday night by Miss Frances Miner of Anaheim, in compliment to Mrs. Rayhawk.

California poppies were combined with lilac sprays in an effective mingling of a yellow and orchid decorative scheme. Place of prominence was given a nest of mown grass and filled with gift packages over which Mr. Stork stood guard. These ribbon-tied parcels held exquisite layette gifts for Mrs. Rayhawk. She will be remembered as Miss Ellen Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Price, 217 West Washington avenue, Santa Ana and, a bride of June, just after her completion of the Santa Ana High school course.

The serving of appetizing refreshments by the hostess brought the happy event to a close. Present, in addition to Miss Miner and her honor guest, Mrs. Rayhawk, were Mrs. Ray P. Moore, Mrs. Leah Pemberton, Mrs. William T. Sheffer, Mrs. Rilla Miner and young daughter, Rilla, of Anaheim; Mrs. William H. Woodward, Mrs. Harold S. Alexander, Miss Blanche Cartmill and Miss Lola Price, of Santa Ana.

First Travel Section Will Conclude Year With Picnic

With only their annual picnic to bring them together again before disbanding for the summer, members of Ebell First Travel section closed their study year Monday with a friendly luncheon held in The Corner House, and an informal afternoon spent with Mrs. George S. Smith, 916 French street. California poppies spilled their gold over the table where the appetizing luncheon courses were enjoyed, and all varieties of flowers lent grace to the scene in the beautiful Smith home, so it was typically a springtime session for the section members.

Several First Travelers were unable to be present, among them the leader, Mrs. William Smart, so Mrs. George Smith, assistant leader, conducted the business meeting. Election of officers resulted in the unanimous choice of last year's officers to serve another year: Mrs. Smith, assistant; Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave, secretary. A committee named to arrange the annual picnic for May will select a place for the affair and communicate with the members at a later date.

Travelers present Monday were Mesdames A. W. Ames, H. Clement Dawes, M. F. Heathman, Lincoln J. Carden, C. S. Kendall, L. L. Shaw, E. B. Smith, George S. Smith and I. W. Van Cleave.

BANISH COMMON CONSTIPATION WITH DELICIOUS CEREAL

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Look out for headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sallow complexions, sleeplessness. Frequently, these are warning signs of common constipation. If neglected, your health may be impaired.

Today, you can rid yourself of common constipation by eating a tempting cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes. How much better this is than taking patent medicines!

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EARLY PAPERS DISCUSSED AT ROTARY MEET

ORANGE, April 6.—Early newspapers of Orange county and the men who made newspaper history in this vicinity were discussed by Terry E. Stephenson, Santa Ana postmaster, at a meeting of the Rotary club at the American Legion clubhouse Thursday when a number of county publishers and former publishers were honor guests of the club.

New officers were elected previous to the program. New officers will be seated the first of July and the election was set forward in order to give new officers an opportunity to attend the convention to be held in Fresno this month. Donald Smiley presided.

C. H. Robinson was elected president, Carl R. Stuckey, re-elected secretary, and W. F. Crist, treasurer. Directors selected were John Adams, Dr. Robert Burns McAlay and J. L. Clayton. Members of the nominating committee were V. D. Johnson, E. H. Smith and H. D. Nichols.

Guests included J. P. Baumgart, chairman.

ner, former co-owner and publisher of The Register with Stephenson who made a brief talk telling of his coming to Santa Ana from Pasadena; Maurice Yarnell and C. D. Overshiner, former owners of the Santa Ana Bulletin; Linn Shaw, founder of the Orange County Herald and later editor of The Blade and J. F. Burke, present owner of The Register.

Stephenson told of the first paper in the county, the Anaheim Gazette, established in 1870, which he said was not only the oldest paper in the county but the second oldest in the state. He gave an interesting outline of the founding of the papers of the county and told of the Santa Ana Valley News, the first Santa Ana paper, which began publication in 1877. In 1886, the Pacific Blade, a Republican paper, was started in Santa Ana by A. J. Waterhouse and Walter F. X. Parker.

Stephenson gave a number of interesting sidelights on the early history of this vicinity and told of the times when what was known as the "G.A.R. crowd," controlled politics; of such newspaper men as Valjean of Anaheim; James Fullerton, who started the Orange News; Dan Baker, of Santa Ana, of the Santa Ana Standard, where Edgar Johnson, Maurice Yarnell and Horace Fine received their training as high school boys.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 6.—Mrs. David Little of San Francisco, mother of Mrs. Robert

For Breakfast with fruits or berries

CRISP, DELICIOUS, NOURISHING

Kellogg's

FOR FLAVOR

Scott, is a guest at the Scott ranch home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hackett and family, residents of this community for the past several years, have moved to Fullerton.

Miss Mabel Cooper, principal of the San Juan Grammar school, was taken ill during the Easter vacation at her parents' home in Puente and has not returned to her duties here.

Mrs. Frank Stilwell and children, of El Segundo, spent a week in the H. S. Barnes home. Mrs. Barnes returned to El Segundo with them Sunday and will spend several days there.

Miss Betty Halladay spent several days at the Diamond Star ranch in Brea canyon visiting her friend, Frances Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baxter, of Santa Ana, were in Capistrano Saturday visiting Mrs. Fay Cook and other relatives.

Many persons from San Juan Capistrano attended the funeral of Mrs. Addie Trowbridge, mother of Mrs. E. M. Nise, of this city, Friday afternoon at the chapel in the Inglewood cemetery. Dr. Hugh McNinch of the local community church conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Larkin and sons, John and Robert, spent Easter Sunday with Mrs. Larkin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilkie at Newhall. Mrs. Larkin and the boys remained there for a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME

A CAPE TO FLATTER THE MATURE FIGURE

PATTERN 1809

BY ANNE ADAMS

Variety is necessary in every wardrobe—though we do acknowledge that it is somewhat of a problem for the mature woman whose figure is no longer slender. However, the charming model shown today is a good example of how to put youth into your frocks—with carefully planned details and wise choice of fabric. The cape theme is a flattering one. Here it is large, gracefully flared and hides a full bust and stout arms. Lovely for afternoon and all informal occasions in a printed silk—the new spring colors are charming—or one of the ever-popular sheers such as voile, chiffon, dimity, etc.

Pattern 1809 is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 4 yards 38-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

THE NEW SPRING, 1934, EDITION OF THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK features all the best spring styles for adults and children. Send for your copy of this interesting, helpful book and be chic this spring. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to The Register Pattern Department.

HAVE YOU TRIED

Kellogg's

Whole Wheat Biscuit

WITH SLICED BANANAS?

FOR tomorrow morning's breakfast—Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit, with milk or cream. Add sliced bananas or berries. Delicious! And so wholesome. So easy to digest.

If you're one of the many people who like a wheat cereal best in biscuit form, you'll give three rousing cheers for Kellogg's.

Both sides of this crisp, appetizing biscuit are toasted golden brown! You'll find them more tempting. And they have that matchless Kellogg flavor.

Each biscuit is exactly the right size. Two in a bowl make a perfect breakfast—not too much or too little.

And Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit is economical. The red-and-green package holds 15 biscuits—ready-to-eat. No cooking or trouble to prepare.

Get Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit from your grocer today. He has a fresh stock, just in—ready for you to give your family a treat tomorrow. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The magic man laughed, "Ho, ho, ho! I guess you Tinymites didn't know that I was going to pull a trick with that big loaf of bread. I surely took you by surprise. I wish you could have seen your eyes. Why, I thought, for a moment, that they'd pop out of your head."

"Surprise is right," said Dotty. "Gee, I never thought that I would see blackbirds fly from a loaf of bread. That's not the usual thing."

"I've read how they flew from a pie in some king's palace, and now I can understand just why the crazy stunt surprised the king."

The magic man then noticed that wee Duncy, with a sad face, sat all by himself upon a log. Said he, "What ails you, son?"

"Aw, I am hungry," Duncy said. "I'd hoped that we could eat that bread, but now I guess you've spoiled our bit of lunch by what you've done."

"Just wait!" replied the man. "You'll see that I'm as thoughtful as can be." He then produced a basket filled with sandwiches and cake.

"All right, you Tinymites," said he, "Start eating, now. The treat's on me. Be careful you don't eat so much you get a tummyache."

Of course they all enjoyed the meal. Soon Dotty said, "How good I feel. Soon Scouty shouted, 'Hey, hahs, look at our big loaf of bread.'"

A monstrous bird is just inside of it and he is trying to hide. I know he's bigger than the others 'cause I saw his head."

The magic man cried, "You are right. I'll call him out. You'll see a sight that you have never seen before. That, I can promise you."

And then he whistled long and loud. The bird walked out and joined the crowd. "My goodness," shouted Goldy. "He has six legs. 'stead of two."

La Habra Legion Post Plans Dance

LA HABRA, April 6.—Members of the La Habra post of the American Legion planned a public dance to be given in La Habra the latter part of the month. The date is to be announced later by Lambert Vandenberg, chairman of the affair.

It was voted at this week's meeting to purchase the medals presented to pupils of the eighth grade each year by the Legion. A communication was read inviting the local post to attend a dinner meeting of the Santa Ana post on May 12 at which time Homer Challalux, state commander, will be the speaker.

RECOVERY AS STRONG AS WEAKEST LINK

The amount of money being paid to the wage earners of the country, according to statistics released in Washington, is on the increase. The amount being paid to the farmers is not rising, but is going down, according to statistics from the same source.

The percentage of increase, so we are told, in February over January, was the greatest that has been seen in any one month, over the preceding month, for 15 years. This does not mean, of course, that the total amount of increase is the greatest, but the percentage. And it shows, of course, how we are going up the incline.

Prices received by the farmer were cut down one point, while the prices he paid for things were up one-half point. There is a great deal to cheer one in reading the figures, and of course these figures are in harmony with those which we called attention to yesterday. The movement from the farm to the city is going on apace, and the figures indicate the reason.

At the same time, the situation with the farm is not only a serious matter for the agricultural end of the country, but a recovery that leaves the farmer out of consideration cannot be a permanent or substantial recovery. The situation is not due to any lack of effort on the part of the national government, but it is due to the fact that the plans which have been laid, and programs which have been carried out, have not resulted as the sponsors believed they would.

For example, with all of the effort to reduce the acreage of wheat, and therefore its production, wheat has, on the whole, slipped in price, and just what can be done about it is not known. It has been acknowledged that the plan for cotton, of having the processing tax, and turning the crop under, failed to produce its objective last year. Three million more bales of cotton were grown last year than the year before in spite of the alleged reduction in acreage.

There has been a larger liberality in farm loans. From that point of view, many of the farmers have received relief, but farm loans, at whatever rate of interest, or whatever favorable conditions of payment by the farmers to the government, do not, by any means, solve the question of farm values or prices. In fact, it is likely the easier it is found to get money for the purchase of and for the payments on farms, the greater the total production from the farms.

It is fortunate indeed that for the most part the elements of competition and over-production, which affect so many of the products of the farm in other sections of the country, do not have an equal application here, particularly on our citrus fruit. While prices have been low for the last few seasons, this has been due to the general conditions in part, and in part to some mistakes made in the marketing. But those in charge are working toward reducing the dangers of mistakes, and increasing the complete control of the output. There is every evidence that there will be a fair increase this season in May. The citrus grower will undoubtedly get considerable relief the next year or two.

Brown has begun to replace black for full dress in Munich. If the fashion leaders eliminated the wing collar and bow tie, they'd really be doing the thing up brown.

THRIFT OUT OF THE WINDOW

What has become of the virtue of thrift? Not so many years ago, in the days of Coolidge prosperity, every bank had a motto in the window urging people to save. Now the banks are not anxious to accumulate the savings of the people. Some of them are actually refusing to take more than a given amount from every depositor.

Economists are telling us that the savings of the people have gone into capital production, thus increasing production to a point which made it impossible for the people to consume what they actually produced. The maximum of copy books extolling the virtue of thrift, the prudent sayings of Benjamin Franklin urging thrift, have all gone out of the window. We are being urged to spend—spend till we have exhausted all we have. This, we are told, will keep factories running, wages higher, merchants smiling, and everybody happier.

What has happened since the days of Coolidge prosperity? Just this: The people saved. Some of them put their savings in banks. Some of them put them in stocks and bonds and real estate mortgages. Then came the smash of 1929, and millions lost all their savings of long years. Many a man has been heard to say, "Now I wish I had spent all the money I saved when I had it."

Well, no doubt the virtue of thrift was over-emphasized. But there is still, under our present system, the necessity to lay up for the rainy day and for the period of old age. It may be that there are those who can fall back on their children. There are many others who have had a good time all along the way, and for whom the bread of charity has not been so very bitter after all. But for those who have no children, and for whom the bread of charity is a mark of disgrace, the lack of thrift will always mark one of the sorrowful problems of life.

As long as the present economic system endures, it will be necessary to conserve some of the resources for the rainy day and the uncertain future. If the time ever comes when a universal pension system exists, and free hospitalization, unemployment insurance, and other safeguards are assured, then we will not need so large a place in our scheme of life for thrift. But such a day has not yet come. They who wish to maintain their self-respect and their independence will still find themselves under obligation to save and store away for the future.

CONGRESSMEN ENJOYED BENEFITS WITH VETERANS

A few days ago a bill carrying over $300,000,000 in appropriations was passed over the president's veto. Congress is now wrestling with increased taxes to meet this additional burden, and the people of the country will have to draw their belts a little tighter and get a little more determination in their souls for this increased budget.

It has been generally represented that the votes cast for this measure were largely through a desire to get the votes of ex-service men, who are benefitted under the provisions of the act. Mr. Mallon of The Whirligig, however, calls attention to the fact that there were other reasons why members of the house and senate voted for this bill. It restored their 15 per cent pay cut, which was "some money." "Each legislator who voted for the measure," says Mallon, "will draw $708.33 1-3 more pay this year."

Whatever the congressman may have thought of those provisions of the bill aiding the ex-service men, there isn't very much doubt of what he thought of that part of the law that increased his own salary. In fact, considering that each of them is a continuous performance, each year, of that much additional, we would rather figure that the congressmen made more out of it than the veterans did, on the average.

This phase of it will be a relief to the veterans, because it gives them an opportunity to vote independently on congressmen, without having the question raised of personal gratitude for the vote of the congressmen, as he has already received his reward in cash money.

Iowa State University has installed easy chairs for students. The professors should stand up, so that at least they will remain awake.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE NATIONAL BUDGET

The estimated deficit of seven billion dollars in the budget at the end of the fiscal year, on the basis of current receipts by the national treasury, will probably be nearly a third less. That surely is good news for the country. Receipts in income taxes are to be much higher than estimated, and expenditures for the recovery program are much less than the earlier estimates of the president.

It was a bold stroke of policy when the president, in announcing the budget to the congress in January, staggered the country with the enormous figures of the cost of government for the next two years. But it was very much better to state the worst than to paint a roseate picture which would bring about a tragic disillusionment later.

Mr. Roosevelt has been absolutely frank. Whenever he makes a statement, the people know what the situation actually is. He does not build up castles in the air. He is not in the habit of making Pollyanna deliverances just to keep the people whistling in hope. It is refreshing to have a man at the helm who sees the rocks or the shoals ahead, who senses the possible consequences, and then exercises all his powers and ingenuity to sail the ship of state safely into port. It is no wonder that the president continues to have the confidence of the country.

FOOD AND RELIGION

The trustees of a church in Orange county the other night refused to permit the use of their church for a meeting of workers on the ground that they had decided to reserve their church for religious meetings. The workers met under a street light and transacted their business.

It has some bearing on the Christianity of the church that the workmen passed a resolution asking that grocery orders be increased to seven dollars a month, with five dollars added for each dependent, and a pint of milk for each child.

The workmen who were refused permission to meet in the church triumphed over the church because the reaction is one of sympathy for the workmen. But in criticizing the church for this action it should be borne in mind that numbers of other churches would have opened their doors gladly to this group and this church is in no way a typical example of the churches' attitude toward the problem of the working man, or the out-of-work man. If it were, the church would be committing suicide.

A Hand to Japan

Christian Science Monitor

It is unfortunate that, so far, no inventive genius has contrived a heart-weak radio that would convey to the men and women of one country the true feeling of the men and women of another country.

If such a device existed, the people of Japan surely would be warmed by a flood of sincere sympathy pouring out to them from the people of the United States and other countries of the world at a time when relief is being rushed to Hakodate, port city of 213,000 population, recently destroyed by fire.

Residents of one country, dependent upon rather formally written reports of world affairs, are prone to forget that very human sentiments move the residents of other countries. This oversight is especially likely to occur when relations between any two countries are in any way strained as a result of political and economic considerations. Such matters have nothing to do, however, with the much more fundamental sympathies between men and women, sympathies that have many times been shown to transcend the really trivial differences in place of residence, color of skin, or academic, historical or trade considerations.

Large as the world may seem to mortal eyes, the astronomer assures us that it is as a speck of dust in the universe. Should not residents on a mere speck of dust feel a strong sympathy for their fellow dust-dwellers?

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A NOTE OF DISBELIEF

I'd like to see a serpent,
A genuine sea serpent,
Which, like a whale,
Defies the gale
And dashes here and there
I'd like, when he respites,
To see hot leaping fires
Dart from his nose
The while he blows
His breath upon the air.

The fish like giant leeches
They find along the beaches
Have neither horns
Like unicorns,
Nor teeth like dinosaurs.
They're built like clumsy wherries,
And I believe canaries
Pent in a cage
Could vent more rage
With vastly louder roars.

If serpents really wander
Here, there and over yonder
What time they howl
And snarl and growl
And lash the briny sea,
Though people say they've found them
And write tall tales around them,
I'll merely smile
And yawn the while;
They'll be just fish to me.

Don't cuss the kid if he throws money away without thought for tomorrow. He has the chief trait of a baseball or movie star.

Being a moron with a 12-year-old mind seems awful until you try to work a 12-year-old's arithmetic problems.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

REALISM VERSUS RADICALISM

It will be a sorry day for Americans if either the traditional radicals or the traditional reactionaries gain control of natural policy.

Both are too much concerned with the problem of dividing up the relatively limited national income we have thus far produced.

The real problem is not that of dividing up the existing wealth and income of the country, but of finding ways and means of utilizing to the full our vast new productive capacities so that all may have an abundant life.

But this bogey of dividing up is an old bogey. In 1820 Daniel Webster, in a speech before the constitutional convention of Massachusetts, declared:

"The freest government, if it could exist, would not be long acceptable if the tendency of the laws were to create a rapid accumulation of property in few hands and to render the great mass of the population dependent and penniless. In such a case, the popular power must break in upon the rights of property, or else the influence of property must limit and control the exercise of popular power. Universal suffrage, for example, could not long exist in a community where there was great inequality of property. The holders of estates would be obliged in such case either in some way to restrain the right of suffrage, or else such right of suffrage would ere long divide the property."

This is still the point of view of both the traditional radical and the traditional reactionaries. The sooner we get away from the idea that all our troubles are due to the high incomes of a few the better. If we but used to our full potential capacity for producing wealth, there could be higher incomes still, and the millions could move into a new life on a far higher level.

The tragedy of our time is that we are retreating from our own capacities and spending our time devising ways and means of throwing the breaks upon our own powers and planning how to standardize for all an essentially meager life.

The slogan of the future must be to be The Political Control of Production.

The slogan of the future must be "The Human Utilization of Production."

TEASING

A feeling of superiority goes along with every stage of growth. The child who can walk looks down from dizzy heights upon the creeping infant at his feet. The boy who can hit a homer looks with scorn upon the miff who struck out. So it goes all along the line. This feeling of superiority has a strong flavor of immaturity about it. Real power springs from a background of wisdom that permits no feeling of the sort but rather inclines toward humility. The sure man feels no necessity to prove his power. The unsure one is driven by his fear into the gestures of dominance, bullying and teasing.

It is about teasing that I am talking today. The half grown child teases his younger brother or sister. The full grown person teases the baby, or his weaker neighbor, fellow worker, or helpless relative. If he rightly understood his desire to tease he would be ashamed of it and quit. He doesn't understand it, of course, so he goes on dwelling in his childish state and tormenting those who either cannot or will not defend themselves. We cannot do much with the grownup people perhaps, but we ought to train the children to despise this form of bullying.

The boy who has missed in history class comes home for lunch and justifies his pride in his power by upsetting the baby, spilling his little brothers box of crayons and rumpling his hair until he cries. He had to do something to assure his wounded pride that he was still strong.

The older sister or brother who has been praised for doing a good job in science that morning comes home a little light in the head. The wine of success has made him giddy. He is walking with the gods and just to tell the world about his great power he belittles the poor brother or sister who is proceeding on the lower levels of elementary school grades.

"Hullo, Keezickie. Did teacher hear you recite the tables this morning? I'll bet you missed seven times seven. I'll bet you said it was forty-nine, smartly. You let my hair alone. Think you're so smart. Go and ask Marilyn if she knows how to wash her face."

"Pooh. Jealous, aren't you. Just because you don't know seven times seven. You want to be fresh, don't you? A kid like you ought to be seen and not heard—" "Mother, will you make Arthur let me alone? He says seven times seven isn't forty-nine, and he's pulling my hair, and he says I'm fresh, and he won't let me eat my soup. He keeps hitting my spoon—" "Stop that, both of you. Arthur, let your sister alone. You're too big to tease her. Don't mind him, child. You shouldn't let him get you all worked up. He's only teasing you."

"Well, I wish he'd let me alone." "Why shouldn't he let her alone? This teasing is a form of bullying, an attempt to show a superiority that is, to say the least, doubtful if measured on the right basis. Send the teaser to Coventry and let the rest of the family live in peace. Isolation is the finest cure for the teasing, bullying, temper baiting brother or sister."

Here and There

Sea worms, which sometimes measure up to 45 feet, often have led to circulation of sea serpent stories.

It is said that one of the reasons given by Louis XIV for the building of the great palace at Versailles was that it would provide employment for 36,000 workmen over many years.

The palace at Versailles, at the time of Louis XIV, could accommodate 10,000 persons.

A new record ocean depth has been discovered off the coast of Puerto Rico—44,000 feet.

Female rabbits, like deer, also are called does.

Nutmeg is the seed of a native tree in the Molucca Islands, although cultivated widely in the East and West Indies, as well as in Brazil.

The population of Italy increased from 38,755,000 in 1921 to 42,554,000 in August, 1933.

Ages of stars can be told by their color, which changes as they grow older.

The bite of the much-dreaded tsetse fly is not poisonous, but the germ it carries is. The fly conveys to the human system a small protozoan parasite that causes sleeping sickness.

Stretched ear lobes are the fashion in Tanganyika, Africa; one native was found wearing his ear lobes under his armpits!

Off the coast of Australia lives a species of sea urchin whose spines are used as slate pencils.

A giraffe has only seven vertebrae, one-half as many as a humming bird.
